FORMAL PACT WITH CHIANG UNLIKELY

U. S. Would Wage War To Save Formosa, Policy-Makers Say

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Communist China makes a major attack on the Nationalist island of Formosa, the United States will go to war. Every top official willing to discuss American policy publicly or privately agrees on that.

BUT THE EISENHOWER administration is not willing, at least for the time being, to make that pledge in a formal treaty with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of the Chinese Nationalists.

Almost no responsible authority wants to talk about this aspect of American policy. It is too much of a diplomatic hot potato.

Yet it is a fact that the American leadership now gives evidence of being whipsawed on a global scale over a policy issue which seems to be deeply involved in the problem of an alliance with Formosa.

The issue is this: Is the United States preparing for war in the view that it is inevitable, or is it directing all its efforts toward avoiding war, without losing honor, in the hope of success?

At one extreme on this issue is South Korea's President Syngman Rhee, who has gone about this country on his current visit vigorously advocating combat to solve the problems of Asia, and particularly of divided Korea.

Rhee was rebuffed by President Eisenhower. Instead of the strong public statement he wanted, Rhee was persuaded to join Eisenhower in a general declaration of desire to unify Korea by peaceful means.

At the other extreme is India with its policy of neutrality, as between communism and the West, in the cold war. India's position is important because of Prime Minister Nehru's influence in Asia, generally assumed here to be great, and of his capacity to influence British policy.

IN TRYING TO build a system of anti-Communist alliances in Asia, the United States has been following a course far removed from the extremes as typified by Rhee and Nehru. But these positions exert constant pressure on the American course.

Chiang Kai-shek has publicly dedicated himself to leading a Nationalist Chinese liberating army from Formosa against the mainland, from which he was driven by the Reds.

American diplomats say he appears convinced the Chinese people would rise in wrath against the Reds to join his crusade. State Department officials, however, are not convinced this would actually happen. They have discouraged such ambitions in Chiang while seeking to build up his defensive strength.

The Eisenhower administration seems clearly to conceive of Formosa as a defensive position essential to the security of the American defense line in the western Pacific—not as a base from which a successful assault could be launched on Red China except as one phase of a much larger strategy.

The Chinese Reds, however, have been as belligerent about Formosa as the Nationalists have been about the mainland. They are continually threatening to seize it, and their threats have sounded much louder in Washington since the Indochina settlement.

West German Security Head Given Asylum

Otto John Welcomed In Soviet Zone, Says East German Premier

BERLIN (AP) — Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl told the East German Parliament today that West German security chief Otto John has been granted political asylum in the Soviet zone.

John disappeared into the East sector of Berlin July 20. The West German government has taken the official position that he was kidnaped, probably while drugged, or lured into the Red zone.

Spies Rounded Up

The East German radio announced last night that Red state security police had rounded up a "large number" of persons it said had been spying for the West German and American "secret services." That broadcast did not mention John by name, but as head of the Bonn government's internal security service he knew the identities of hundreds of persons sending information from East Germany to the West.

The Soviets in previous broadcasts have claimed that John quit the West to work for German reunification.

Since John disappeared, a man purporting to be him has broadcast three times from East Germany, saying he went to the East to work for German unity and because "too many Nazis" had returned to power in the West German government.

Grotewohl told the lower house of his Parliament that he was making his statement about John to "end all speculation and sensation mongering" about his disappearance.

Reads Letter

He read what he said was an excerpt of a letter to him from the 44-year-old man:

"Herewith I wish to thank the German Democratic Republic and you personally for the asylum which you have granted me.

"I wish to assure you that I want to work for the unity of Germany and against the danger of war."

An official British source in Bonn today said British authorities cut John off from their intelligence secrets about 10 months ago. The action, the source said, was "due to an increasing conviction on our part that John was unreliable."

Other Allied officials in Bonn disclosed today that John was involved in a bitter controversy with American and British intelligence officials in Germany before he disappeared.

CROWD CURIOUS. Spectators climbed filing cases and crowded around an open courtroom door in Cleveland, as Judge Frank J. Merrick refused a writ of habeas corpus which would have given temporary freedom to Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, who is charged with murdering his wife Marilyn. Reporters and lawyers were admitted to the courtroom but the general public was barred by the judge.

Dissidents Bow To Guatemala's Military Junta

Holdouts Surrender; Armas Says Loyal Officers Have Control

GUATEMALA (AP)—President Carlos Castillo Armas and Guatemala's regular army still governed their nation in shaky shotgun political union today after surrender of holdout dissident troops at the Aurora base just outside the capital.

The defiant units, apparently hoping to force Castillo Armas out, had refused to honor the agreement Monday night pledging the army's full support to the governing junta in exchange for the disbanding of the President's "liberation army" of irregulars.

Castillo Armas announced the Aurora units had surrendered last night after the President's honor guard blocked all roads to the base and threatened to attack. He said the base commander and his second in command had been imprisoned and the junta had put Col. Ramon Gonzalez in command of the base.

Castillo Armas insisted army commanders loyal to the junta were in complete control of the country and "absolute calm" prevailed. But he made no move to countermand his order earlier yesterday halting dissolution of his irregular units in the key provincial cities of Zapaca and Chiquimula.

Chief Despairs Of Getting Help From Suspect

Sheppard 'Clams Up' But Police Still Hope To Solve Murder Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police Chief Frank W. Story reported today that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard now has "clammed up completely," but that because of new information he is more hopeful of solving the slaying of Sheppard's wife.

"He just doesn't want to help the investigation," Story said of the 30-year-old osteopath held on a first-degree murder charge.

The chief said Dr. Sheppard "is too well coached and advised by his attorneys, and the present interrogation seems to be a waste of time."

Story said he might decide to drop further questioning. Detectives have been quizzing the husband for five days.

Just what the new information is, the chief refused to say. But he said that because of it, he is "more

Ohio Man Dies Of Injuries in Plant Explosion

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Neil Wilson, 47, one of six persons injured yesterday in an explosion at the nearby Philo plant of the Ohio Ferro Alloys Co., died in Bethesda Hospital today.

Wilson was a foreman and suffered severe burns.

Two other workmen were in a critical condition. They are Gerald Jadwin, 28, and Elvin McDowell, 46, of Philo. Edwin Tansel, 27, of Rt. 2, Chandlersville, also was in Bethesda Hospital, but was less seriously injured.

Treated at the hospital and dismissed were Mrs. Madge Hutchison, 40, of Philo, and Granville Garrett, 63.

The blast blew the roof off one building and shattered windows. A plant spokesman said a mold exploded as a crew was pouring steel from a furnace into the mold. There was no estimate of damage.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marie Engle, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Engle of Zanesville, died last night in Children's Hospital of injuries received in an automobile collision south of Zanesville, July 26.

Poses New Problem

Second Ohio Democratic Congress Nominee Quits

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Loss of a second Ohio Democratic nominee for Congress has posed another problem for party leaders seeking to unseat incumbent Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) in the Nov. 2 election.

Charles West, 59, former New Deal congressman, announced his withdrawal yesterday from Ohio's 7th District race for reasons of health. Hospitalized here since July 22, West said he acted on advice of physicians.

Secrest Out

Only last week Democrats picked a replacement for Rep. Robert T. Secrest of Senecaville as Democratic nominee in the 15th District. Secrest, considered a shoo-in for re-election, withdrew to accept appointment to the Federal Trade Commission. His successor is Max Lewis Underwood, New Lexington attorney.

West's withdrawal only 16 days before the deadline for certification of Ohio election ballots, sent party leaders in the 7th District scrambling for a successor.

Filed With Wrong Board

Chairmen and secretaries of the party's county Central Committees in the eight-county district scheduled a meeting for Friday in Springfield to name a replacement.

Ohio's present congressional delegation is composed of 16 Republicans, 6 Democrats and 1 Independent, nominally a Democrat. Democratic leaders have expressed hopes of capturing a few seats from Republicans in this non-presidential election year.

Foreign Aid Cut Too Deep, Will Hurt Nation, Ike Says

Senate Chiefs Aim To Avert More Slashes

Face Tough Battle; 800 Million Already Shaved Off Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders faced a tough job today trying to head off additional multimillion-dollar cuts in the administration's foreign aid program.

They appealed to the Senate Appropriations Committee to save all possible of President Eisenhower's request for 3½ billions of new funds for the global anti-Communist effort in the year which started July 1.

Calls Closed Session

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) called the purse-string group into closed session to vote on actual amounts to recommend in the final money bill of the session.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles received a setback yesterday when the Senate slashed another half billion from the separate foreign aid authorization bill. It set a ceiling 800 millions less than the President asked, along with restrictions he did not ask.

And it created the unusual situation of authorizing less than the House already has voted to spend.

Authorization measures normally are passed to establish maximums before Congress appropiates the actual money. But this time the House went ahead and voted to appropriate $2,895,944,000 in new funds after fixing a limit of $3,368,000,000. This latter authorization bill is the one trimmed yesterday by the Senate to $2,610,000,000, or about 286 millions less than the House appropriation.

The conflict thus puts the Senate and House at odds over two sets of figures at once, with little time remaining for agreement on how much to spend.

$5,200,000,000 Total

The House-passed money bill, on which the Senate Appropriations Committee continued work today, also allows some $2,313,000,000 in funds previously voted but not yet obligated for a total aid program of about $5,200,000,000.

Sen. Long (D-La) led the drive to chop an extra half-billion dollars from the authorization on a 45-41 Senate vote that found 26 Democrats and 19 Republicans opposing the administration. Earlier, Long was beaten 48-38 in an effort to cut more than a billion dollars from the measure.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Foreign Relations Committee opposed both cuts in vain. He was aided by two veteran Democrats, George of Georgia and Hayden of Arizona.

The reduced bill finally passed on a 67-19 vote with 15 Republicans and 4 Democrats opposed.

Man Wins Fifty Cents But Loses Life in Bet

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Delmar R. Willingham, 38-year-old painter, won 50 cents yesterday but lost his life. He leaped from the Anthony Wayne bridge into the Maumee River on a bet and drowned.

Willingham lost a game of pool and then two games of shuffleboard to a drinking companion, Niles Niemi, whom he had met several hours earlier at a tavern here, police said.

"There must be something I can beat you at," Willingham told his companion. "I'll bet you I can jump off the bridge."

The two rode to the bridge and Willingham then dove off.

TWO PLANES CRASH. A pair of air crashes jolted the New York City area yesterday as a huge air liner, carrying 37 persons, and an Air Force jet plunged to earth. One person was killed in the mishaps.

UPPER: An Air France Constellation airliner burns after crashing on a farm near Preston, Conn. The 29 passengers and eight crewmen escaped death, but several were injured. The plane was flying from Paris to Mexico City.

LOWER: Firemen and volunteers work to clear debris and empty water from a huge crater in street at Wantagh, Long Island, N. Y., after a F84 Republic Thunderjet plane crashed and exploded in a street. The pilot was killed and at least six persons were injured. Wantagh is on Long Island's south shore.

Fears Some Unaware of Red Menace

Declares Bill Pared To Minimum Before Being Sent to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the foreign aid cut voted by the Senate is too deep and will hurt the United States badly. He also said it reflects some lack of comprehension as to what the people in the Kremlin are doing.

Concerned With Dispute

In speaking of the McCarthy dispute in the Senate, he said today that anything tending to divide the Republican Party must be of concern to him and he must try to do something about it.

The President told a news conference that before the foreign aid bill went to Congress the administration already had trimmed the program as much as it felt was justified.

Eisenhower asked Congress for nearly 3½ billion dollars for foreign aid. The Senate late yesterday voted to put the figure in an authorization bill at $2,610,000,000. The House had voted $3,368,000,000.

Defends Marshall

The President also came up with a ringing defense of Gen. George C. Marshall when asked for comment on a statement by former Secretary of War Harry Woodring that Marshall would sell out his own grandmother for personal advantage.

Eisenhower said Marshall—who as army chief of staff was his superior during World War II—typifies all that we look for in an American patriot.

The Woodring statement, in a letter to a friend, was made public earlier this week by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Eisenhower explosively rejected Woodring's suggestion that Marshall would "sell out his grandmother" for personal advantage.

'Sorry Reward'

On the contrary, Eisenhower said, Marshall's 50 years of service showed the highest type of patriotism. It is a sorry reward, the President said, his eyes flashing, for someone to say at this stage that Marshall is not a loyal and fine American or that he served his country only to further personal ambition.

The President said he knows no one who deserves this verdict less than Marshall.

As to the controversy in the Senate over whether McCarthy should be censured, Eisenhower said in reply to a question that of course that controversy will have an effect on Republican party unity. But he said he feels he should not try to evaluate the situation in advance of any decision by the Senate on what course to take.

The President added that any-

Kansas Revolt Has Spotlight in Primary Voting

By The Associated Press

A revolt against the Republican Statehouse administration in Kansas took the spotlight from three U. S. senators and 41 House members seeking renomination in four state primaries yesterday.

While most of the incumbent Congress members won easily, Lt. Gov. Fred Hall of Kansas held a mounting lead in his challenge to the administration of retiring Gov. Edward F. Arn. Party control is at stake.

Hall, seeking the GOP nomination for governor, was trailed by George Templar, former U. S. district attorney, who had the support of the state's party leadership.

All incumbent congressmen won their races in Kansas, Missouri and West Virginia. And all but one of the six Michigan congressmen opposed for renomination held

Job Goes Begging

'Neutral' Senators Eyed For Probe of McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders combed a list of about 20 senators today in the hunt for what they called a middle-of-the-road committee to investigate the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

High on the lists compiled by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic chieftain, were reported to be the names of Senators Millikin (R-Colo), George (D-Ga), Russell (D-Ga), and Byrd (D-Va).

Knowland had called for the naming before the day is over of three Republicans and three Democrats to serve as a special group to sift 46 accusations—some of them duplications—offered as the basis for a move to censure McCarthy.

Meanwhile, the seven senators who sat as judges in the 36-day hearings into McCarthy's row with high Army officials arranged a closed meeting, to sound out prospects for agreeing on a verdict before Congress adjourns.

There were indications Knowland and Johnson were running into difficulties and delays in picking the new inquiry group as senator after senator whose name was mentioned ticked off objections to serving.

There was an obvious reluctance to undertake in Washington's summer heat a job most senators regarded as likely to be even hotter politically.

Knowland's GOP list, apparently compiled largely from suggestions made by Republican Policy Committee members, was said to include Senators Payne (Me), Case (SD), Carlson (Kan), Hickenlooper (Iowa), Barrett (Wyo), Cripps (Wyo), Bennett (Utah), Thye (Minn) and Martin (Pa).

Efforts were being made to prevail on Millikin, chairman of the

Aviation Group Praises Work Of Helicopters

WASHINGTON — (UP)—A new booklet issued by the National Aviation Education Council emphasizes the importance of the once-neglected helicopter that achieved recognition of its versatility during the fighting in Korea.

It observes that the "windmill" can do much more than fly forward. It flies backwards, sideways, straight up, straight down, stops in mid-air and hovers at zero speed.

Students of classical Greek will tell you that the name helicopter comes from two words meaning "spiral" and "Wing." The idea of flying in a heavier-than-air craft by the method called "direct lift" interested many pioneers before the brothers Wright made their famous flight.

An early Greek myth relates that Icarus, whose wax wings melted when he tried to fly toward the sun, used this method. Leonardo da Vinci, the Italian genius who is said to have drawn the first plans for flying machines before 1519, originated the idea of lift which is similar to that used for today's helicopter.

Instead of wings like an airplane, which gets its lift by moving in a forward direction, the helicopter has blades. The air flows faster over the tops of the blades than it does under them, and the helicopter gets its flow of air by swinging them round and round instead of moving them straight forward. Once in the air, the pilot controls the direction of flight by tilting the spindle around which the blades rotate.

No record of the blunt - nosed, ugly duckling craft is complete without a salute to its services in Korea. Along with evacuating, rescuing, and the transporting troops, it delivered supplies and spotted artillery targets.

At least 15,000 men were evacuated and the lives of 3,000 wounded were saved by being moved within 20 minutes after they were injured. The wounded arrived at the hospitals for treatment faster than most traffic accident victims in large cities.

In civilian use, the helicopter, among many other services, delivers cargo, patrols land and property and is used by the police for search and rescue work.

FBI Agent Who Handled Raid on Barkers Retires

CINCINNATI (AP)—Earl J. Connelley, who worked on some of the FBI's biggest kidnaping cases, disclosed yesterday he has retired from the service after 34 years.

He has been an assistaint to FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover since 1940. In 1935, he led agents on a daylight raid of the Florida hideout of Kate (Ma) Barker and her son, Fred, who were sought for the kidnaping of a St. Paul banker.

He also was in charge of the capture of the eight German saboteurs at the beginning of World War II. Connelley has made his home in Cincinnati for the last few years.

Galionite Files $60,000 Suit Against Railroad

BUCYRUS—The New York Central Railroad Co. is named defendant in a $60,000 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Walter McCain, Galion, resulting from a collision between the McCain car and a NYC locomotive at the Hopley Ave. crossing in Bucyrus Oct. 6, 1953.

McCain claims he was permanently injured and charges the railroad with negligence. He alleges the flashers were not working at the crossing and no warning or signal was given him by any of the train crew.

A PROGRAM OF organ music was presented by Mrs. Marvin White with Donald Oiler, brother-in-law of the bride, as vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Skinner satin. A shaped Chantilly lace collar accented the bodice and the sleeves which ended in points over the hands had lace inserts. The full skirt extended into a train. Her veil of bridal illusion was caught to a cap of lace and satin and she carried a white orchid showered with streamers tied with orange blossoms.

Matron of honor for the bride was her sister, Mrs. Donald Oiler, and bridesmaid was a college friend, Miss Martha Guyer of Lawrenceburg, Ind. Their dresses were fashioned alike of nylon over chromspun taffeta and were similar to that of the bride with three-quarter length sleeves. Mrs. Oiler, in aqua, carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with pink ribbons and streamers, and Miss Guyer, in pink, carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with aqua ribbon and streamers.

Miss LaNaye Oiler, niece of the bride, as flower girl, wore a dress of white nylon over yellow taffeta with a boat neckline trimmed at the shoulders with daisies and a full gathered skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses with yellow ribbon streamers.

SERVING AS best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Curtis Wilson of near Scottsburg, Ind., and ushers were Earl Wilson of Scottsburg, Ind., another brother of the bridegroom, Rev. Donald Pruett of Pulaskiville, O., Arnold Dean of Cincinnati and Clarence Driftmeyer of Cincinnati, college friends.

Mothers of both the bride and bridegroom wore dresses in a turquoise shade.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centering the table. Serving were Mrs. A. E. White, Mrs. Ruth Oiler, Miss Delores Oiler, all of Marion, and Miss Fern Baer of Cincinnati, a college friend of the bride.

Reunions

GOMPF

Fifty-five members and three guests attended the 43rd annual Gompf reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Selby Gompf, southeast of Mount Gilead. A basket dinner was served at noon. During the business meeting, officers were re-elected as follows: Selby Gompf, president; Alva McClenathan, vice president; Mrs. Alva McClenathan, secretary - treasurer; Mrs. Milo Shaffer, Mrs. Grace Blayney and Mrs. Dorothy Barkley, flower committee. Members attending were from Chicago, Ill., Galion, Mount Gilead, Upper Sandusky, Claridon, Cardington and Marion. The 1955 reunion will be held on the first Sunday in August with Mr. and Mrs. Milo Shaffer in charge.

JOHNSON

The third annual Johnson family reunion was held Sunday at Lincoln Park with 38 members and five guests present from Marion, Richwood, Sylvania and Dixon, O.

Gifts were presented to the oldest person present, Charles Spicer, and the youngest, Janet Rae Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Johnson of Marion. Music and songs were given by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Sharon Sue Miller of Sylvania. Three births and one death in the past year were reported.

Officers elected for the new year are Herbert Patrick, president; Charles Paul Spicer, vice president; Miss Marilyn Patrick, secretary and treasurer; Miss Ethel Parmer, assistant secretary; Carl Miller and Mr. Johnson, program committee. Next year's reunion will be held the first Sunday in August at Lincoln Park.

SNYDER-CHAPMAN

Annual reunion of the Snyder-Chapman family was held Sunday at the Whetstone Grange Hall, with about 40 relatives present. Mrs. Lucy Chapman was re-elected president, Reuben Snyder, vice president; and Mrs. Betty Piper, secretary-treasurer. All are from the Marion community. The reunion next year will be held the first Sunday in August.

UNDERWOOD-SHUEY-SERGENT

The 13th annual Underwood-Shuey-Sergent reunion was held Sunday at Lincoln Park. Officers elected were: LeRoy Underwood, president; Ronald Ireland, vice president; Mrs. Paul Zachman, secretary and treasurer. The reunion will be held next year the first Sunday in August at the same place. A short program was held in charge of Mrs. Paul Zachman. Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Clark gave both instrumental and vocal number. Rev. Clark led the devotions and offered prayer. Fifty-two were in attendance from Arlington, Grove City, Prospect, Columbus, Galion, Cardington, Shelby and Marion.

WEAR NEW UNIFORMS

BUCYRUS — The new type sheriff's uniform, adopted about three months ago by the Buckeye State Sheriffs' Association, was worn Tuesday for the first time by Crawford County Sheriff Elwood Jacobs and his three deputies. The new apparel consists of black shirts and ties, gold insignias, gray trousers and a gun-metal-colored Stetson type hat.

Couple Wed Fifty Years

PROSPECT RURAL residents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Mehaffey, will celebrate 50 years of married life Sunday with an open house event for friends and relatives. They will receive between the hours of 2 p.m and 5, and 7 until 9 at their home on Route 47.

The wedding of Aug. 11, 1904, took place at the home of the bride on the Bethlehem Rd. in Waldo Township. Before her marriage, Mrs. Mehaffey was Miss Alice Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bender, and was born at the place where she was married.

She was 68 years old June 4. Her husband, born near Chambersburg, Pa., will be 72 Oct. 28. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Mehaffey, and he moved with them to Marion County when he was six months of age.

Having lived in Prospect Township the last 45 years, the celebrants moved to their new home a year and a half ago. Both are members of the Prospect Methodist Church and are charter members of Bethlehem Grange.

Their children are Mrs. Harold Gix and Charles E. Mehaffey, both of near Prospect, and they have five grandchildren. Two daughters, Florence and Marguerite, are deceased.

Phrase-Makers

By George Sokolsky

Politicians have long learned to use a phrase to stir the popular imagination. Such a phrase saves the people from the need for thinking. All they have to do is to repeat the phrase over and over again and then they believe that it is true. Theodore Roosevelt invented the phrase, "The Square Deal," which actually had no precise political political meaning. The assumption was that most politicians, when playing the card game, poker, then as popular as bridge or canasta is in this generation, dealt the cards from the bottom as well as off the top of the deck, but that Teddy dealt straight.

SOKOLSKY

Franklin D. Roosevelt improved upon his distant cousin's phrase and made it "The New Deal," a rather confused adventure in politics and economics, having to do with doing at every political moment what came naturally without regard to the future. It was a most successful phrase because it gave Roosevelt four winning elections.

WINSTON CHURCHILL came back into the politicls of Great Britain, when it seemed as though Hitler would win World War II, with the dramatic phrase, "Blood, Sweat and Tears" — which is all that he could offer his people. It electrified them into resistance to the enemy. It stirred them to an historic effort of the greatest magnitude. It was a wonder-working phrase.

Imagine my surprise when I came across a political poster of 1844, headed "Hurrah for Birney & Liberty!" Never having heard of Birney but being a collector of anything that comes my way, I got a photostat of the poster from Larry Johnson who sells groceries in Syracuse and runs an old-fashioned country store.

It would seem that back in 1839, the Abolitionists, organizing the Liberty party, nominated James G. Birney for the presidency, but he declined. In 1843, they repeated this nomination of James G. Birney who got 62,000 votes in the election of 1844 which was sufficient to upset the hopes of Henry Clay and resulted in the election to the presidency of James K. Polk.

THE BIRNEY poster contains the following paragraph:

"Anti-Monopolists, come and lend your aid for the overthrow of a mountain monopoly, compared with which all the other monopoly whose capital is Twelve Hundred Millions of Dollars, all invested in human muscles and bones and sinews; and which, in its results, not only extorts from its immediate victims their toil and sweat and tears and blood, but annually drains uncounted millions from the pockets of the free North, and renders American Republicanism a hissing and by-word on the lips of all the Despots of the Old World."

There is no reason to believe that Winston Churchill ever heard of James G. Birney or his poster and we must assume that Churchill invented, "Blood, Sweat and Tears" out of his own head, he being very good at that sort of thing.

But this is an interesting historic fact. The Birney poster was for two mass meetings in Madison County, New York State. For years this particular poster hung in a country store in a town called Canesaraga in Madison County. Probably because nobody could pronounce Canesaraga, they changed the name to Sullivan which is what the town is now called to the everlasting joy of the Irish. Not many miles away is Pompey, a town in which, I am informed, lived a fine American girl, Jenny Jerome, who in due course became the mother of Winston Churchill.

NOW, THERE IT IS, Winston Churchill got his wonder-working phrase pre-natally by osmosis. If you do not believe that, you will not believe that Bacon wrote Shakespeare, that Sam Rosenman wrote Franklin D. Roosevelt's speeches, that sometimes Haydn wrote Mozart and vice-versa, that nobody ever rolled his own. You must wonder that Socrates never wrote a book or why the learned and wise and fat Dr. Johnson has come down to us through the gay man, Boswell.

Well, I offer no explanation for these phenomena. But the Birney poster is real even if Birney is so forgotten that his name is hardly an historic memory as it is with so many oher candidates for the presidency.

As for Winston Churchill, he still holds forth in fine Georgian English, the master phrase-maker of our time.

Super Gestapo

By Victor Riesel

BERLIN

The gestapo rides again. This time its color is as red as the blood it spills. The gestapo men and prisons have been taken over by the Soviets in the other sector. It operates as the SSD — The State Security Service of the Soviet - controlled German zone.

RIESEL

Like the old gestapo, the SSD has its whims and its tortures.

No working man, no businessman is safe. The working man is closely watched because his skill is vital, his sabotage can hurt the creaky, starving Russian economy. So the neo-gestapo, the SSD, has built a gestapo-like block-by-block network of informers "over there."

Let a worker slow down or grumble, or let a businessman or landowner balk at becoming "VEB"—"owned by the people" — and the non Communist is arrested on his way to work or to some police station to which he has been summoned for some allegedly minor violation.

WHEN RELATIVES attempt to locate the prisoner, they are told that he has been kidnapped by "American agents". Often wives are notified that their husbands have fled to West Berlin to live with other women. Soon, however, word comes that the prisoner can be brought bed linens and underwear — in jail. Sometimes he is released. Usually not.

The "enemy of the state" is kept in solitary confinement for weeks. To get confessions the SSD prevents the prisoner from sleeping, keeps him on a low calorie diet and throws him into one of several special cells.

One of these cubicles in the SSD prison in Soviet - controlled Schwerin is the "cold cell." There the prisoner is kept naked in low temperatures for several hours before being interrogated. No man wants to go back in. He confesses sabotage.

In the Red Gestapo SSD prison at Weimar there are "light cells." Here the prisoner lives under constant 1000 watt lamps. He can't sleep. He has no feeling of passing time under the steady glare. He is in a virtual hypnotic state by the time he is called in for questioning.

AT THE WEIMAR prison there also are prisoners who hold "bath cards."

These unfortunates are the men turned in by a particularly vicious report of some informer. The "bath-card" holder is put into a water tight cell. Water runs in slowly. After 24 hours it reaches the level of his mouth. He must stand to live. Then after every six hours in water at this depth, the prisoner is taken out for an hour, dried off, then thrown right back in.

Another type of Weimar cell is narrowly constructed. The prisoner cannot move nor sit down.

Confessions come easy at Weimar, which might interest those who believe that Soviet pledges of co-existence and friendship can be trusted.

Here in Berlin the Soviet officials are slowly permitting some social contact with Western officials. The Russians seem to be under orders to make friends in our sector. So it should be a comparatively simple thing for the co-existence champions to say to their new-found Soviet friends: Never mind, for the moment, pulling your armies out of Southern Asia and Eastern Europe. Just wipe out these gestapo prisons and the SSD.

For example, a new topic of conversation at the little dinners of Soviet officials and their new Western friends in all official occupation headquarters might be the SSD kidnapping squads.

THE SOVIET cultural attache here, a very charming and erudite official who is one of those the Russians are counting on to convince us of their new warmth at special dinner parties, might be asked about the disclosures of a former SD agent on Feb. 11, 1953.

This was SSD agent Becker. He broke with the Russian gestapo and revealed that it planned to kidnap a number of prominent members of the "Fighting Group Against Inhumanity," which is supported in part by American money.

Ex - SSD man Becker disclosed that the SSD used "dangerous drugs, brute force and, since the fall of 1952, women."

Becker had been assigned by the SSD to kidnap one of the Fighting Group as the signal for the abduction of the entire staff. This was to be handled by four SSD kidnapping specialists. One man the SSD did snatch was Dr. Walter Linse, economist of the anti-Communist "Investigating Committee of Free Jurists." He's never been heard from.

All this can be documented at Free Jurist headquarters, Berlin, Zehlendorf-West, Limastrasse 29—phone 84 63 23. You might want to check if you think this is just cops and robber stuff.

It isn't. The gestapo rides again in the Soviet zone, and some times into ours

Indian Dance

By Hal Boyle

PINE RIDGE, S. D.

The old Sioux, in the days when they ruled the great plains, had a festival that combined in theme several of the white man's holidays.

HAL BOYLE

It was called the sun dance, and to the Indians it was Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, and a family reunion all wrapped in one.

In those times the wandering Sioux bossed the land and chased the buffalo from Kansas to Canada, from the Mississippi River to the Rocky Mountains.

But once a year the roving tribesmen came together and were knit into a nation by the sun dance, a ceremonial that symbolized their unity and common faith in the Great Spirit.

THE GOVERNMENT in an effort to destroy a tradition which it feared always held the danger of stirring up the fierce Sioux in fresh outbreaks, banned the sun dance in 1886. But it was revived more than 20 years ago, and last week Indians came hundreds of miles to the sprawling Pine Ridge reservation here for a renewal of the symbolic centuries-old festival.

In earlier times no formal date for the ceremony was set. The Indians simply drifted together as if pulled by a magnet by nature's signals—the time when the buffalo were fat, when the choke-berries ripened, when new sag sprouts sprang foot-high, when moccasins made a crisp echo in the dry grass of summer.

This year Frank Fools Crow sent out the call. Thousands of Indians came by horse and wagon, on foot or in beaten up automobiles. They pitched their modern tents and faded tepees around a great enclosure of willow poles hung with green pine boughs.

In the center of the enclosure stood a slender young cottonwood tree. The tree, selected in advance, by a medicine man, had been carried to the site and erected by strong Braves who took care to see that none of its leaves touched the ground. To the Sioux the leaves of this sacred tree stood for human hearts, and must not be bruised.

SHEAFS OF sweet-smelling sage —standity for purity—were placed in the crotch. From them dangled a piece of buffalo robe and man-shaped figure cut from a piece of buffalo skins. Steam was provided dependence on the buffalo.

The sun dance itself is designed to demonstrate the four great Sioux virtues—bravery, generosity, fortitude and integrity.

This year three young Braves volunteered for the ordeal. Two were veterans who had pledged themselves to perform a sun dance in gratitude for their safe return from Korea.

To purify and prepare themselves, the three first took a sweat bath in an "Ini", or sweat house, made of willow bows covered with buffala skins. Steam was provided by pouring water over hot rocks in a pit within the sweat house.

The dancers were then painted—red for the sun, blue for the sky, yellow for the rocks, green for the earth.

Without food or water the three men then danced around the cottonwood tree to the music of beating tom-toms and the eerie, high-pitched chants of singers. They danced in turn in the direction of the four winds, pausing only when the tom-tom beaters had to rest.

I watched the dance for part of each day, but to me the dance, monotonous in itself, was less interesting than the faces of the old Indians and their squaws on the sidelines.

THEY WORE a look of mingled pride, mystic exaltation and sadness. To them this was no dance of celebration—it was the pageant of mankind's terrible struggle to survive, a victory of man's spirit over all the enemies he meets in his brief life under a blazing sun.

The look on the faces of the young Braves in the audience was different. Few seemed stirred by the symbolism of the dance. They were more interested in making eyes at the young Indian maidens. For them the sun dance was just another opportunity for courtship.

Frank Fools Crow, who wears long braids as his forefathers did, said sadly:

"The young Indians no longer care much for our old customs. This may be our last sun dance."

The young Braves and their maidens prefer to jitterbug. Slowly but inevitably the once mighty Sioux are taking the white man's roads, roads that will scatter them to the four winds.

GALION WORKER INJURED

GALION — Lloyd Hanlon of Galion suffered a compound fracture of the right leg Tuesday when a truck wheel passed over it. He was working at the U. S. Vault Co. on South St. at the time of the accident. He had stepped backward into the rear wheel of a truck loaded with burial vaults and he was thrown to the ground, the wheel running over his right leg.

NOMINATED TO TVA. Brig. Gen. Herbert D. Vogel, an Army engineer, was nominated by President Eisenhower to be a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority to succeed Gordon R. Clapp. The White House said the President plans to designate Vogel as chairman after the Senate acts.

Traffic Noise Petition Filed By Crestliners

CRESTLINE — A petition was presented at the meeting of Council Monday night from property owners on W. Main St., asking Council to take action to eliminate the noise from trucks and automobiles on the street. The matter is to be investigated.

Mayor Nelson Lee reported $1,136.85 in fines for the month of July.

The utilities committee was given the Council's permission to have the Ohio Edison Co. engineer make a survey on Thrush Ave to determine the number of street lights to be erected.

Clerk Marie Schill was authorized to write to the superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad in regard to drainage plans under their oil tanks on Lincoln Ave. and to the state highway department in Ashland in regard to erecting a traffic light at the subway on Seltzer St.

Bills amounting to $3,165.12 were read and ordered paid.

Former Kenton Teacher Passes Away at Toledo

KENTON — Mrs. Nellie Wildey Wolf of Toledo, former Kenton resident, died Monday at 2:30 p.m. at her residence of a heart ailment.

Born in Forest, Mrs. Wolf taught for several years at the Espy School in Kenton and was a member of the First Methodist Church here.

She was married in Kenton to Philip C. Wolf, who survives. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Carl L. Lister of Kenton.

Funeral services will be on Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Price Funeral Home with Rev. Clair Emerick officiating. Burial will be in Grove Cemetery.

STAMP SURRENDERED

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—All 11 federal gambling tax stamp holders here have voluntarily surrendered them to the city, Mayor Harley R. Ewing says. The mayor requested on Monday that the $50 stamps be turned in. When a similar request was made last January, 15 persons brought in their stamps. Ewing said there was no good reason for persons to have the gambling stamps in Alliance, since local laws prohibit gambling.

CAA EMPLOYE CHARGED

CLEVELAND (AP)—An air traffic controller for the Civil Aeronautics Administration has been charged by the FBI with the theft of an $800 comptometer from the government. Neal R. Nickels, 34, was booked yesterday and released under $1,000 bail.

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America was started at Woodbury, Conn., in 1783 when Samuel Seabury was named the first bishop.

Galion Council Gives Okay to One Resolution

GALION — City Council adopted one resolution and adjourned until next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. when the regular session was held last night. The absence of two councilmen, Gerald Bonnar and Thomas Maidens, made it impossible to pass any ordinances.

The resolution adopted grants permission to E. C. Gledhill to construct a sanitary sewer on Euclid Ave. in the southwest section of the city and tap into the city sewer system. Gledhill is developing an addition north of Maple Drive near John St.

During the meeting Councilman William Amick reported that a check is ready for the swimming pool repairs from the Federation of Child Conservation Leagues. Amick is chairman of the park, playground and recreation committee of Council. He said that Mrs. W. R. Eckstein president of the federation, will bring the check to a meeting of Council. The amount of $2,540 was collected by the mothers who belong to the Child Conservation Leagues of Galion. The drive was headed by Mrs. V. U. Shawber. Assisting chairmen who helped her were Mrs. Maynard Hopkins, Miss Veronica Kelley, Mrs. William Lott, Mrs. Don Yochem, Mrs. Clarence Court and Mrs. Robert Ricksecker.

Council meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. B. Stephen Topalian, rector of Grace Episcopal Church. Roma Stall presided.

Capt. Cook Resigns From Galion Force

GALION — The resignation of Captain George L. Cook of the Galion police department was announced here Tuesday by Service Director Floyd Steffee. The resignation becomes effective Sept. 11. Captain Cook has made an excellent record, especially along the line of criminal investigation, during the 11 years he has served on the police force. He first joined Aug 19, 1943, and was appointed captain, Oct. 1, 1950. Prior to joining the police department, Cook was employed for 27 years at the Hercules Steel Products Corp.

Captain Cook said today that he plans to accept a position in private industry.

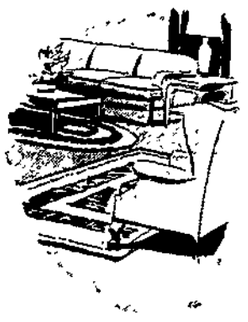
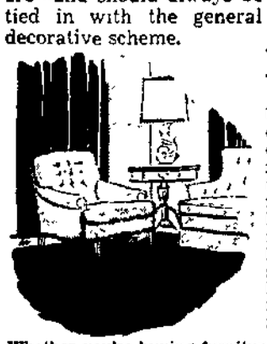
Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

COULD THIS BE YOUR PROBLEM?

Floor space broken up by too many spotty rugs? Small rugs scattered indiscriminately about give the room a cluttered feeling and make it appear smaller than it actually is. An important point to remember is that the floor is as much a part of the background of your room plan as the walls are—and should always be tied in with the general decorative scheme.



TRY SOLVING IT THIS WAY



Use wall-to-wall carpeting or one large room-size rug to increase the apparent size of the room. If you have plain walls, then a figured rug or carpet may be used. Never select a large patterned floor covering for use in a small room. Note how the rug in the lower sketch follows the structural lines of the room . . . forms a flattering background for the furnishings.

Whether you're buying furniture for an entire home, one room, a fill-in piece or a replacement, you'll find just what you're looking for in our good selection of beautiful furnishings. We make a special point of simple lines, good proportions and high quality. So do pay us a visit real soon.

Marion Army Reserve Class To Be Formed

Local School To Help Officers Stay Active In Training Programs

The Marion Branch of the United States Army Reserve School, Unit No. 2078, was organized here last night for the purpose of keeping reserve officers active in the training of today.

A group of 14 Marion area officers, who will be students in the school, held an orientation meeting at the Marion Engineer Depot to discuss the formation and requirements of a training school.

Here to help in the formation of the school were Col. Seltzer, assistant commandant of the United States Army Reserve School at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, and Capt. George E. Williams, officer in charge of the district Army Reserve headquarters at Mansfield.

Course of study in the school here will be the Army command and general staff basic course with the first session scheduled to be held Sept. 1 at the Marion Engineer Depot. Commandant of the local school will be Lt. Col. L. H. Larsen, and the instructor will be Maj. Harold Edwards. At least 25 officers are expected to begin the course in September, which is for officers from the rank of captain and higher.

A training schedule has been outlined and copies were distributed to the officers at last night's meeting. The school will continue for 10 months each year, from September through June, with meetings every other Wednesday. Each year there will be a total of 24 regular meetings in the school with 12 supplemental meetings, including one pay drill each month.

In order to receive academic credit, officers must attend at least 75 per cent of the meetings, and must attend at least 60 per cent of the sessions to remain active in the school.

Subjects will include safeguarding military information, principles of war, personnel service and problems, replacements, fundamentals of offense, personnel procedure, military government, fundamentals of defense, rules of land warfare, casualty reports, personnel estimates and reports, and personnel conservation.

It is expected the school will expand and more officers will enroll as it gets under way in the fall.

Letters regarding the school have been sent to reserve officers in this area. Officers who have not received notification, in either the Army, Navy or Air Force, and would like further information are asked to contact Lt. Col. Larsen at the Ohio Edison Co., 2-2191, or at his home at 290 S. Grand Ave., 2-6460, or Maj. Edwards at the city school administration building, 3-1116 or his home, 2-1819.

Guatemala

The 700 "liberationists" in Guatemala City were disarmed Monday night after they had battled for 12 hours with cadets of the national military academy and troops from the Aurora base. Twenty-five persons were killed and 70 were wounded.

The battle resulted from a drunken brawl between a group of cadets and a group of irregulars in a house of prostitution.

The order to disband the irregulars brought thousands of protesting demonstrators before the national palace yesterday, many in mourning for those killed in Monday's battle. Castillo Armas in a balcony appearance pleaded for calm. He said he was keeping his personal force under arms in the two provincial centers because "new lamentable clashes could occur" if their disbanding was ordered.

Foes of Ike's Farm Program To Wage Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators battling the Eisenhower administration farm program claimed "a fighting chance" today to extend present high price supports on major crops for another year.

Sen. Young (R-ND), spokesman for this bipartisan group, said in an interview:

"We're going to put up the hardest kind of fight but we may lose."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and a backer of the flexible price supports asked by the administration, continued to voice confidence that the Senate would approve them as the House did.

The Senate bill contains several features opposed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson and the White House.

Chief among these, inserted by an 8-7 vote in the Senate Agriculture Committee, is a one-year extension of price supports on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a legal standard said to give farmers a fair return in relation to their costs. Price supports at 90 per cent have been mandatory since World War II.

Aiken and his group will offer a system of flexible supports at 80 to 90 per cent of parity as a substitute. The House approved an 82½ to 90 per cent flexible system. The administration originally urged a 75-90 per cent range.

Formosa

Secretary of State Dulles reminded newsmen yesterday the U.S. 7th Fleet is in the area to protect Formosa in event of a Communist attack. But Dulles added that while some thought has been given to bringing Formosa into a treaty with this country, there has been no decision and no change of policy. Dispatches from Formosa have given evidence of a desire on the part of Chiang for such a link.

Authorities suggest, however, at least four strong reasons which may bear upon the administration's attitude:

1. The United States would have very little to gain, since Chiang has little to offer not already committed under a current informal arrangement.

2. Other countries in Asia whose friendship Washington wants are regarded here as disliking Chiang and any formal alliance with him might be a handicap in dealing with them.

3. Chiang might use the formal commitment of a mutual defense pact to involve the United States in a war with Red China by attacking the mainland or creating some incident which would lead to war.

4. There is at least an implication that some officials think the United States should keep its policies flexible and not make a 10 or 20-year treaty with a refugee government of uncertain long-range tenure. This involves relations with Red China. Official statements on that issue, while emphasizing American rejection of Peiping's recognition, do not finally close the door to recognition if the Chinese Reds change their ways.

BOY, 11, ROBS GIRL, 8

CINCINNATI (AP) — One of the smallest robberies in Cincinnati police history was put on the police blotter last night. An 11-year-old boy robbed an 8-year-old girl of 20 cents. Two policemen gave chase and captured the boy and recovered 16 cents. Four pennies were dropped in the one-block chase.

WATER RECORDS BROKEN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All water consumption records in metropolitan Columbus were shattered last month, the city division of water reports. The July total was 2,006,580,000 gallons compared to the previous high of 1,949,810,000 in August 1953.

Often he simply picked up a Bible and began to read to himself when they pressed the point, the officers said.

Miss Susan Hayes, a 24-year-old hospital technican, admitted she was intimate with Dr. Sheppard.

'Crackpots' Confess

Two men who "confessed" to the killing last night were described by police as simply drunken "crackpots." One, a Lorain steelworker, was brought to headquarters after he became abusive over the phone while talking to police.

Shortly after Mrs. Sheppard was killed, a former Clevelander, George W. Ennie, 36, made a similar "confession" in a phone call here from Baltimore.

He was brought back to Cleveland as a parole violator and last week was sentenced to one to 10 years in prison.

Meanwhile, attorneys for the defendant engaged in a minor legal skirmish in the Court of Appeals.

In the legal maneuver, lawyers for Dr. Sheppard got a temporary writ to prevent Bay Village Council President Gershom M. Barber, from conducting a preliminary hearing on the charge against the doctor.

Sets Friday Hearing

Appellate Judge Joy Seth Hurd set 10 a. m. Friday to listen to a request that Barber be prohibited from holding the hearing. Hurd issued an alternative (temporary) writ to prevent the Bay Village hearing before Friday, but it is not scheduled until Saturday.

Dr. Sheppard's lawyers contend Barber is "without power of jurisdiction" to hold a preliminary hearing.

They had made this same contention in a plea Monday for a writ of habeas corpus. Their plea was denied, but they are appealing. Barber issued the warrant for Dr. Sheppard's arrest and committed him to the county jail because Mayor J. Spencer Houk is expected to be a witness, and disqualified himself. Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick ruled Monday that Ohio law permits acting mayors to serve in the mayor's place whenever the mayor is prevented from acting, for any reason.

The purpose of Saturday's hearing in Bay Village would be to decide whether there is enough evidence to hold Dr. Sheppard for the Cuyahoga County grand jury. Then it would be up to the grand jury to decide whether there is enough evidence to indict him and bring him to trial. Unless both sides agree otherwise, a preliminary hearing must be held within 10 days of an arrest, which in the Sheppard Case was last Friday.

$75 Reported Missing By Owner of Oil Station

Loss of $75 in change and bills was reported today to police by Benjamin Gowan, manager of the Pure Oil Service Station at E. Center and State Sts.

Gowan told police that when he opened the station this morning, there was a note from a merchant policeman that the door to the lubricating room had been found unlocked about midnight.

The money which was missing had been placed in a money bag and left in a wastebasket in the station.

POOL ISSUE RULED OUT

CLYDE, Ohio (AP) — The $125,000 bond issue for a new swimming pool won't be submitted to the Clyde voters on the November ballot after all. It was certified to the county auditor last Saturday, too late to comply with a law saying it must be certified 110 days before the election date.

Economy Claim Called 'Hokum'

Douglas Speaks Out On Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate pointed for action today on a big supplemental appropriations bill which Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) charged is evidence of "hokum" in administration economy claims.

"A two-billion-dollar joker," Douglas said last night of the measure to provide funds not included in regular appropriations bills.

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) contended it would add that amount to a $2,900,000,000 deficit the administration estimates for the fiscal year ending next June 30. And Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said it reflected "negligence" in failing to anticipate needs.

Of the more than two billions in the bill, about half would go for military construction.

Sergeant, Never Before in Trouble, Admits Bank Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Army sergeant who said he had never been in trouble before pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court here today to a federal bank robbery charge.

Sgt. Anthony Modock, 30, on leave from Ft. Knox, Ky., is accused of the $14,150 holdup of the Cumberland branch of the Cambridge Central National Bank in Guernsey County last July 26.

Modock told Judge Mell G. Underwood in a brief hearing that this was the first time he had ever been in trouble. He also told the judge he was in debt, but did not go into detail.

He was not represented by an attorney, and the court asked federal probation officers to look into the man's Army record before sentence is passed.

Modock has been in the Army 14 years. The report of the probation officers will determine whether he is to be sentenced to prison or placed on probation. Conviction on a federal bank robbery charge carries penalties up to 25 years in prison.

Modock's arrest by a posse of law enforcement officers came only three hours after the bank holdup. He was taken into custody on the farm of his brother, Steve Modock, on Ohio 313 near Buffalo in Guernsey County. The money taken in the robbery was recovered.

leads. Veteran Democrat George D. O'Brien trailed by a narrow margin.

Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-WVa) was renominated to a fifth term, topping the closest of his three opponents 4-1. In Kansas, GOP Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel triumphed easily over two opponents. Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, was unopposed for renomination.

Among the successful congressmen was Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. He admitted his primary opponent, State Sen. Noel Cox, "gave me a little scare for a while." But Short won by a comfortable margin.

Late returns gave Short 33,630, Cox 24,367.

Light Balloting

Balloting in all four states was unusually light. With few exceptions, campaigning had been listless and many Congress members did not campaign at all.

There was a four-way contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Michigan. The winner was Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner.

With more than half the votes counted, Leonard had 107,744. His nearest opponent, State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, had 86,952.

Leonard will oppose Gov. G. Mennen Williams in November. Williams was unopposed in the Democratic primary, as was Sen. Ferguson's November opponent, union leader Patrick V. McNamara of Detroit.

West Virginia Republicans nominated Thomas B. Sweeney of Wheeling to oppose the veteran Neely in November. Sweeney had one opponent.

RHODES BOOKS SPEECH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, said today he would make his first major speech of the campaign Thursday night at "Jim Rhodes Day" ceremonies in Jackson County.

SHIPMENTS DECREASE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shipments of Great Lakes iron ore during July were 11,016,010 tons, compared with 14,496,938 in July last year, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reports. For the season to date, the tonnage is 33,100,530 compared with 50,555,309 at this time last year.

CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR TAKES BRIDE. Governor Goodwin Knight of California and his bride, the former Mrs. Virginia Carlson, a 35-year-old war widow, wave to the crowd as they walk from the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Beverly Hills, Calif. The governor's first wife died two years ago.

Democrats

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reported receipt of West's primary election campaign expense statement, erroneously filed with the Clark County Election Board. Brown issued West a certificate of nomination after receiving the statement from Mayor G. Louis Wren of Bellefontaine for West.

West's action followed the disclosure that he was the only candidate for congressional and elective state office failing to file expense statements as required by law. Other candidates file with county election boards.

Brown had said he could not issue a nomination certificate until he received the statement. That raised the question of whether West's resignation would be official without proper filing of the expense account.

The report filed by Wren showed that West received $210 in contributions and spent that amount.

West said he had filed his primary election expense account with the Clark County board of elections at Springfield. He said he did so on advice of a board member. The member was not named.

"If I should have filed in Columbus, he (the board member) should have told me so," West said. He added his notice of withdrawal had been submitted to the Clark County board.

Certificates of nomination are required by candidates before their names can appear on the Nov. 2 election ballot, according to statute.

Opposed by Brown

West was opposed in the 7th District by the incumbent, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester. The district includes Logan, Union, Champaign, Clark, Madison, Greene, Warren and Clinton counties.

Republican nominee in the 15th district is John E. Henderson, Cambridge attorney. That district includes Muskingum, Guernsey, Perry, Morgan, Noble, Washington and Monroe counties.

thing which tends to divide the party concerns him and means he must take some steps with respect to the situation.

Other Views

On other matters:

COMMUNIST CHINA— Eisenhower reiterated with great emphasis that he is opposed to admitting Red China to the United Nations under present conditions. But the President went on to say he is always ready to wait and see whether the sinner reforms and comes into the fold. He would be off his rocker, he added, if he attempted to say what conditions would be five years from now with respect to Red China and the U. N.

ATOMIC POOL — The President said he does not propose to be defeated on his plan for an international atomic energy pool for peaceful purposes merely because Soviet Russia has refused to go along with the idea. He said he still is trying to find a way to put the plan into effect without Russia and intends to keep on trying.

POLITICS—So far as he is concerned, the President said, the main issue of the fall congressional campaign will be simply this: Is the record of the Republican administration a good one or is it not?

General Tire Offer To Be Studied by Board of Directors

Details of an offer under which General Tire and Rubber Co. would gain control of Motor Products Corp. was not expected to be released until the General Tire board meets at an undetermined time.

L. J. Sorensen, president of Motor Products which operates the local Marion Industries plant, told the Wall Street Journal that the suggested plan came as a surprise to him and that he preferred not to offer any opinion about it at this time.

According to a disclosure Monday in Akron, General Tire is planning to offer up to $7 million for 300,000 shares of Motor Products, about 64 per cent of the 468,304 shares that are outstanding.

McCarthy

Conference of All Republican Senators, to head the Republican trio. Millikin didn't voice a positive "no," but he told a newsman he had "a lot of other work to do in Washington and in Colorado."

Johnson was reported to have told George, Russell and Byrd he feels he must have one of the three of them among Democrats on the committee. All three said they didn't feel they could serve.

Also high on Johnson's list were said to be Senators Stennis (Miss), Hayden (Ariz), Daniel (Tex), Sparkman (Ala), Holland (Fla), Pastore (RI) and Edwin C. Johnson (Colo).

Knowland and Lyndon Johnson pressed for speedy action so that the six-member committee could make an early inquiry and report back before scheduled midmonth adjournment of Congress.

The accusations stem mostly from McCarthy's Communist-hunting tactics, his financial operations and his criticisms of fellow senators and government officials.

Awaiting choice of what some senators referred to as the "jury," McCarthy said in an interview he believes his accusers should appear first before the special committee. After that, he said, he will be ready to reply.

Sen. George said the committee "should have closed hearings and reduce the charges to four or five of sufficient substance that they would be grounds for censure, if they were proved. Then it might be possible for the committee to dispose of a charge a day in hearings."

Chairman Ferguson (Mich) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee said he thinks the Senate committed itself by its 75-12 vote sending the McCarthy issue to the special committee to remain in Washington until it has a specific report on which to act.

U.S. Files New Demand With Communist China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today demanded anew that Communist China pay compensation for six Americans killed and wounded in an attack on a British airliner by Chinese fighter planes.

In a new note to the Chinese Reds, the United States also renewed a previous demand for "appropriate punishment" of the persons responsible for the "criminal attack" on the airliner near Hinan Island July 23.

Can Deduct Expenses

Working Parents Given Break in New Tax Law

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—An entirely new idea is being imbedded in tax laws: a special break for people who have to pay for care of their children while they work. This concept goes into effect for the first time in the huge, 1,000-page tax revision bill just passed by Congress.

Third of a Series

Experts figure it will cut taxes for about 2,100,000 persons by a total of 130 million dollars a year.

The new bill permits many taxpayers to deduct from their income, before figuring their tax, actual expenses of up to $600 a year for care of children, but also for any dependent who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself.

THAT MEANS an actual tax cut of $120 for those in the lowest, 20 per cent tax bracket, a bigger saving in higher brackets.

This is how you can qualify under the child-care provision:

If you file your return as a single head of a household—a widow, widower, divorced or separated person—you can claim the $600 deduction regardless of your income if you meet the other conditions.

And if you are a working wife, you can still qualify if your husband is incapacitated.

You also can benefit if you file as a married couple, where both husband and wife work and file a joint return. If your combined income is $4,500 or below, you can deduct the full $600. Your deduction is reduced by the amount of your income above $4,500.

Thus, if your income is $4,800, you can deduct only $300. But if your income is $5,100 or more, you are not entitled to any deduction.

One very important point to remember—if you claim this deduction, you must itemize your dependent-care expenses and all your other deductions. You can't benefit from this provision if you take the standard, automatic deduction of 10 per cent of your income offered to most taxpayers.

THE PROVISION applies to expenses in this calendar year, which started Jan. 1. You can deduct them in your income tax return due next April 15.

So if you qualify, you might want to start now keeping a record of your deductible expenses.

You can't deduct child-care expenses if they are paid to your own dependents. And of course you can't deduct baby sitter expenses while you are out frolicking.

The theory is to permit a deduction for expenses you must incur to make a living—just as regular business expenses are deductible.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Five motorists were fined a total of $85 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday on traffic violation charges. Heaviest penalty was levied against Joseph R. Tinnerello, 19, of 134 Waterloo St. who was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation.

Other motorists in court, the charge, and amount of fine follow:

Myron S. Gruber, 41, of near Marion, safety chain violation, $15 and costs, suspended; Linus Van Oss, 55 of near East Liberty, illegal passing, $15 and costs; Norman H. Jurgens, 40, of Pomeroy, speeding, $15 and costs; and Harlan H. Dulaney, of Miami Beach, Fla., stop sign violation, $15 and costs.

VFW Prepares To End National Encampment

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Veterans of Foreign Wars marched down the home stretch today in their 55th annual national encampment with politics, passage of final resolutions and a giant "pageant of drums" in the spotlight.

They received a warning, too, from the chief of U.S. naval operations, that the military service is "not attracting and holding a sufficient number of the high-type people" required to maintain a peak level of efficiency.

"There is not sufficient pride in the military service nor are the rewards of military service sufficient," said Adm. Robert B. Carney in an address prepared for a VFW business session.

Jackson County's Sheriff Criticized

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—Criticism of the administration of Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago was reflected today in the report of the county's July grand jury.

The jury recommended removal from office of the county's only deputy sheriff, Harley Jenkins, 28, of Oak Hill, and that the September grand jury investigate the office of the sheriff.

In its report, the jury charged that both Sheriff Trago and Deputy Jenkins with either refusing or being reluctant to serve warrants "lawfully issued by the court of this county" in which they did not believe the person charged was guilty.

Sheriff Trago, who was called before the jury several times, told newsmen the investigation of his office was "purely politics."

2 Fostoria Residents Killed in Auto Accident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway patrol reported here that two men were killed and another injured early today when their car swerved off the road in Summit County, just north of the Portage County line. The patrol said Donald Rudy, 22, and Ronald Shumaker, 21, both of Fostoria, were killed. Donald Peller, 22, also of Fostoria, was admited to a Ravenna hospital for treatment.

Tax Experts Estimate

Jobless Benefit Boosts Would Cost 47 Million

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A research expert says jobless benefit boosts sought by the Ohio CIO approximate 47½ million dollars a year.

James Maloon, research chief for the state tax department, came up with the estimate on the basis of current employment conditions.

John Rooney, assistant Ohio CIO secretary-treasurer, said some 2,000 petitions are in circulation to place before the next Legislature an initiated bill calling for the increases.

The petitions require qualified signatures equal to 3 per cent of the 1952 Ohio vote for governor. That means nearly 109,000 names.

The CIO proposes an increase in maximum unemployment compensation payments from $30 a week for 26 weeks to $50 for 39 weeks. Minimum benefits would increase from $10 a week to $15.

Allowances for dependent children would go from $2.50 a child, with a limit of $5a week, to $3 with a $9 weekly top for a like period.

Members of the Legislature usually introduce bills—but they must consider proposals initiated by petition. If they fail to act on initiated bills within four months, or change them to the dissatisfaction of sponsors, the proposals could go on election ballots for consideration of voters.

Rooney said the CIO would have to obtain another 100,000 signatures from persons who did not sign the first petitions to win a place on ballots.

Average Rate

Maloon said his computations "assumed" an average unemployment rate of about 4 per cent of the Ohio labor force under the jobless benefit umbrella. The average for the first six months of this year was slightly less than 4 per cent, he said.

Although Maloon guessed that unemployment might drop during the rest of the year, he cautioned that variations were not predictable.

Using 4 per cent as a peg, Maloon said expenditures under the CIO proposal would be 145-150 per cent of those under the present law.

"It is expected that the estimate in this form would be reliable over a considerable range of levels of unemployment," Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers observed.

The CIO took to the petition route after failing to win its full requests from the 1953 Legislature. The last session increased maximum benefits from $28 a week to $30 for 26 weeks. It also eased payments into the unemployment trust fund by companies with good employment records and allowed them credit for interest earned by the fund. The resulting tax reduction was estimated at some 30 millions annually.

Concerns with three or more employes contribute to the fund at the rate of $27 for each $1,000 of their annual pay roll unless they earn a lower merit rating.

A recent U. S. Treasury report said Ohio's trust account stood at nearly 650 million dollars last June 30.

State officials said that represented about 9 per cent of the total labor pay roll throughout Ohio.

Should the trust fund drop below 7½ per cent of the total pay roll, they added, employer contribution rates would increase under Ohio law.

Ford's Four-Hitter Downs Indians in Series Opener

Yanks Score Pair in Third To Win 2-1, Cut Tribe Lead

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I've been getting a lot better last month, but tonight I really had wonderful stuff," said southpaw Whitey Ford, whose four-hit pitching brought the New York Yankees a 2-1 victory last night over the league-leading Cleveland Indians.

The 25-year-old hurler struck out six and walked four Cleveland batters in the game, the opener of a three-game series, which cut the Indians' lead to 1½ games.

Ford, who posted his 11th ictory against six defeats, said that besides using his fast ball, "I came in with curves on the inside to the left-handers, like Doby."

It was Doby, blasting his 23rd home run of the season, who tallied in the first inning for Cleveland's only score.

That didn't happen on a bad pitch, the Yankee left-hander declared, adding:

"I wouldn't be afraid to throw it to him again. I came in with that one right in on his fists and he didn't really hit it good. You ask him and he'll tell you that. The thing is, he's so strong he can hit a ball badly and still hit it over the fence."

Besides Doby, only Vic Wertz, Wally Westlake and Jim Hegan managed to get as much as a single off the chunky left hander.

The New Yorkers grabbed seven hits off Don Mossi, Art Houtteman and Ray Narleski. Houtteman took the rap for the game, when he served catcher Yogi Berra a third-inning single that produced the Yanks' winning runs. Berra's roller through the right side of the Indians' infield scored Irv Noren, who had singled, and Mickey Mantle, who had poked a two-bagger.

Except for Westlake's harmless single, Ford held the Tribe hitless in the last five frames.

A crowd of 60,643 jammed Municipal Stadium and set an attendance record for the regular season.

Left hander Don Mossi, who started for the Tribe, pitched only one inning.

Complaining of an upset stomach before the game, he assured Manager Al Lopez he was well enough to pitch.

After the Yankees loaded the bases with one out on an error by Bob Avila and two walks, Lopez hurried to the mound and asked Mossi if he felt all right.

Mossi said, "Yes," and proceeded to strike out Bill Skowron and retire Gil McDougald on a pop foul to Al Rosen.

But Houtteman entered in the second and allowed six hits and the two Yankee runs. Ray Narleski, hurling the last two frames, yielded one hit.

Cleveland's Bob Lemon seeks his 14th victory against five losses in tonight's game. Facing him will record or Bob Grim with a 13-5 mark.

Stenographer Seen Winning Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—This is the day of the big whirl around Good Time Park and it could be another filly will outslicker the colts in the famous Hambletonian Trotting takes.

Sixteen of the best 3-year-old trotters in the land are ready to battle it out for a purse totalling $106,830, second richest of all time, and a pert lass named Stenographer is the probable favorite.

Owned by Max Hempt of Camp Hill, Pa., and driven by the clever Del Miller, Stenographer has copped eight of her last nine races, and seems ready for the biggest afternoon of her career.

But it will be a tussle, perhaps one of the most memorable in the history of this great sulky derby since it was invented in 1926. There are half a dozen horses capable of trotting those mile heats in 2:02 or better, and few Hambletonians are won in that kind of clocking. The first heat is set for 2 p. m., EST, and heats follow every hour until one horse has won two dashes.

Today's program, loaded with several other rich stakes held over one day because of yesterday's heavy day-long rain, starts at 12 noon, EST.

Stenographer will start from the favorable No. 2 post position, right alongside Pronto Boy, a speedy colt from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Duquoin, Ill. Pronto Boy can travel, and from the No. 1 spot might grab the first prize of $57,581.

Others given good chances are the Newport Stock Farm's Newport Dream, South Plainfield, N.J., Cronus, from Goshen's Arden Homestead Stable; Prince Victor, owned by Sam Huttenbauer, Cincinnati; and Harlan, property of C. M. Provost, Pittsburgh, Pa. Harlan is a stable mate of Stenographer.

Church Flips First Hitless Contest in West Coast Loop

LOS ANGELES (AP)—To Bubba Church, Los Angeles righthander, goes the distinction of pitching the first no-hit baseball game of the 1954 season in the Pacific Coast League.

Church, former "whiz kid" with the Phillies, had his fast ball literally "taking off", and his curve breaking sharply last night, as he hurled the Angels to a 3-0 victory over the Portland Beavers.

Church was in complete command of the situation at all times. He walked three men and fanned six, and only 27 batters faced him.

Unknown Sets Pace in 'Tam' Golf Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — A well-known Texas golfing name popped into the headlines again yesterday as previously unheralded Tom Burke Jr. made a bid for professional fame.

Burke, formerly of Houston and now a Chicago pro, smacked a 6-under-par 66 in the opening qualifying round for professionals in the All-American Golf Tournament.

It topped a field of 150 who were shooting for the 60 places open in the All-American, which starts tomorrow.

Another 150 take to Tam O'Shanter's fairways today for their 18-hole qualifying rounds.

Burke, a cousin of Jack Burke Jr., a pro circuit regular, bagged eight birdies for 32-34.

Chataway Wins Three Mile in Empire Games

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—John Landy and Roger Bannister may be kings of the cinder oval to the rest of the world, but here in Vancouver the man of the hour today is flamed - haired, happy-go-lucky Christopher John Chataway.

Yesterday in the dank dullness of a drizzly afternoon he came pounding around the final curve like the Royal Scot Express to win the British Empire games three-mile gallop and 11,000 fans mentally ran every step of the way with him.

They had nothing against Fred Green, the ex-paratrooper who beat Chris John in world record time earlier this year but couldn't catch him yesterday. They didn't dislike Frank Sando, who made it a 1-2-3 finish for England, or barefooted Nyandika Mayioro of Kenya who placed fourth.

But Chataway was their favorite before he started because he had paced Landy and Bannister to their under-4-minute miles and chased Green to the record 13:32.2. They jumped up and forgot the damp discomfort when he burst away from the field to finish in front by 15 yards.

Chataway was clocked in 13:35.2, missing a world record but shattering the games' standard of 13:59.6. Five of the finishers beat the latter mark.

Lima Club, Beulah Park To Clash for State Title

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—Lima-Baldwin-Hamilton faces Beulah Park Jockey Club of Columbus in final play tomorrow for the state title in the National Baseball Congress tournament.

During the double-elimination play at nearby St. Paris, Beulah scored a 3-0 record, Lima-Baldwin-Hamilton a 6-1 standing.

Actually LBH is undefeated in tourney play. Its one loss was recorded by Columbus Ciro's which later was replaced by the Lima-Baldwin-Hamilton team.

In last night's play, LBH defeated St. Paris Lakers, 4-3.

Winner of the finals will meet the Michigan winner Aug. 11-12 at sites to be determined.

Floyd Kelley Posts 3-Hit Hill Job, Sinks Vance 5-0

Isaly became city Little League champs in two straight games by blanking Vance, 5-0, in the Little League World Series last night at Robert Scott Field.

Floyd Kelley went the distance for the Isaly nine which Monday in the series opener had trounced Vance 10-6.

The Isaly twirler struck out seven while walking seven. He spaced 3 hits over the six-inning route with Vance netting one in the first, one in the fourth and one in the fifth.

Phil Reid was the Vance hurler. He gave up only six hits while fanning five and walking three.

Isaly touched Reid for two runs in the third on a pair of hits and three in the fifth on three more safeties.

A pair of errors, singles by Peanuts Powers and Larry Ishida, and a fielder's choice accounted for the initial runs in the third. A pair of walks and three hits, by Powers, Marvin Cook and Gene Tyo, resulted in three fifth-inning runs.

Powers and Cook, who had both hit in the previous series tilt, came through with two hits apiece to pace the Isaly attack. Ishida and Tyo also continued their hitting for Isaly, each banging out a hit. Tyo's was a double in the fifth frame which drove in two runs.

The first run in the fifth was scored on a walk with the bases loaded to John Norris while in the third, Ishida drove in the first run on a single and the second run came in on an error.

Reid banged out a pair of hits for Vance to pace his team's offense. He had hit safely twice in the series opener. Ken Coffae, who also had one of Vance's seven hits Monday night, collected the other hit.

Berra's Bat Hurts Tribe Flag Hopes

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Cleveland's best chance of slowing up the New York Yankees' pennant drive is to cool off Yogi Berra's blazing bat.

In his last seven games, the Yankee catcher has hit safely 14 times in 27 times at bat for a torrid .519 average. The Yankees have won six of those seven games.

Two weeks ago, Berra was hitting .287. Today he is at .306—and climbing.

It was Berra who proved the difference in New York's 2-1 victory over Cleveland. The triumph sliced the American League leaders' margin over the Yankees to 1½ games.

With Mickey Mantle on second and Irv Noren on third in the third inning, Berra cracked a single off Art Houtteman and scored both runners. That was the ball game. The Indians, who had drawn first blood on Larry Doby's first-inning home run, couldn't budge Whitey Ford after that. The young left-hander permitted only one hit in the last five innings.

The National League race remained unchanged. The league-leading New York Giants maintained their five-game advantage over Brooklyn with an easy 7-1 triumph over Chicago's crippled Cubs. The Dodgers had to go all out, edging the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 as Carl Erskine bested Vic Raschi in a pitching duel. The third-place Milwaukee Braves, 10 lengths off the pace, outscored Philadelphia's Phillies 3-1.

The Chicago White Sox served notice they were still in the American League race by drubbing the Boston Red Sox 6-2. The victory advanced them to within six games of the Indians.

In other games played under the lights, Cincinnati overpowered Pittsburgh 7-2 and Philadelphia's Athletics downed the Baltimore Orioles 6-2. Detroit shut out Washington 2-0 in the only game played in daylight.

Ford turned back the Indians on four hits for his 11th victory. He fanned six and did not permit a runner to pass second after the fourth. The Indians' best scoring chance after the first inning came

Browns To Build Around 'G Men' Again This Year

By FRITZ HOWELL

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—With the opening exhibition game at Green Bay less than three weeks away, Coach Paul E. Brown is busily batting his Cleveland Browns into shape.

A flock of last year's talent has passed on, and a flood of newcomers are bidding for berths in this hard-working, heavy - eating campus camp.

Before Sept. 26, when the Browns meet Philadelphia in the first league game, Paul must have his squad pared to 33. He has a host of decisions to make, and the cast-off question is the big one.

But when the final returns are in, you'll probably find his "G-Men" are again the backbone of the 1954 team.

The G-Men, of course, are Gillom, Groza, Gibron, Gatski and Graham. They in that order, perform at end, tackle, guard, center and quarterback, and without that set of old pros, the Browns just wouldn't be the Browns.

Groza, Gatski and Graham are starting their ninth year with the lakefront squad, Gillom his eighth, and Gibron his fifth. And like wine, they seem to get better with age.

Just take a look at their 1953 performances:

Horace Gillim, 6-1, and 225, punted 63 times for 2,760 yards and a 43.8 average, only 35 of his high boots being returned for a 4.5 average. He also plays either end, on offense or defense, and caught seven passes for 80 yards.

Lou Groza, 6-3 and 235, booted 39 extra points in 40 tries, and 23 field goals in 26 attempts, for 108 points to lead the team in scoring. In eight years he's counted 603 points on 95 field goals, 312 extra points and one touchdown.

Abe Gibron, 5-11 and 240, is the speed king of the linemen, a deadly tackler when down under punts, a great offensive hole-opener and interference leader.

Frank (Gunner) Gatski, 6-3 and 240, has handled the T-formation offensive center job without relief, and flawlessly, for six years. The players call him "the silent one," and he's the key to the pass-protection pocket throwing around quarterback Graham.

Otto Graham, 6-feet and 205, the pass master quarterback, is the man around whom the Brown offense is constructed. Last year he completed 167 of 258 passes for 2,722 yards—averaging 10.6 yards every time he threw the ball. In eight seasons he's completed 1,224 of 2,201 passes for 19,771 yards, or slightly over 11 miles. He's tossed 148 touchdown passes for 888 points, and of the 2,201 heaves, only 110 have been intercepted, the enemy picking up only 9 of 258 last season.

If Paul can pack a little talent around the "G - Man" quintet, he should do all right once more in football's toughest league. And the chances are he'll find the talent lurking among the returning vets and his draft choices.

Mac's Shades Faultless, Stays In Tournament

Mac's Trading Post remained in the district softball tournament at Galion by edging a tough Faultless Rubber nine, 4-3, last night.

Bud England gave up only three hits in hurling Mac's to the win over the district powers of the past several years.

The losers were semi-finalists in the district last year, district champs in 1951 and 1952 and, playing under the Ashland Indians banner in 1947, were district champs.

Mac's made five hits off Faultless Rubber pitching with Jim Seiter getting two of them. Bob England, Carl Harbolt and Lindy Walters each contributed a hit.

Next action for Mac's will be Friday at 8 p.m. against Gorman-Rupp of Mansfield, defending district champs who also claim district titles in 1948 and 1950.

In other action last night, Crestline Eagles dumped North Electric, 15-9.

Two Marion teams collide in the tournament opener tonight. Marion Merchants and Smitty's All Stars meet at 6:30 p.m. while at 7:45 p.m., Statler Realty of Mansfield meets Victory Market of Mount Vernon and at 9 p.m., Garbers Printers of Ashland meet Cochran Motors of Mount Vernon.

Harness Racing Tops Program For 2nd Day of Crawford Fair

BUCYRUS—A full afternoon of harness racing and the Midwesten Hayride grandstand attraction tonight are highlights of the second day of the Crawford County Fair here today.

Because of the large number of race entries, the 30 trot and 30 pace events have been split into two divisions of one heat each. The program also includes a two-year-old trot and two-year-old pace, both two-dash events.

A crowd of about 500 was present at the grandstand Tuesday afternoon for the tractor-pulling contest. William James of Sulphur Springs finished first in both the medium and lightweight divisions. Gene Rowkland of North Robinson was second in the medium class and Kenneth Schiefer of Oceola was runner-up in the lightweight class.

The Lykens High School band will appear this afternoon and the New Washington band tonight in brief concerts. Yesterday's concerts were played by a combined band under the direction of S. G. Gilbert, Bucyrus, and the Holmes-Liberty Band. Last night's grandstand attraction was the Lucky Lott Auto Thrill Show.

Inauguration of night harness racing is set for Thursday night. There will be additional sessions Friday and Saturday nights.

First of several state officials and candidates expected to visit the fair during its five-day run will be Secretary of State Ted Brown. He was scheduled to visit the grounds this afternoon.

in the fourth, when they loaded the bases with two out. Ford, however, struck out Jim Hegan.

Don Mossi started for Cleveland but was forced to leave after the first inning because of an upset stomach. Houtteman, who took over in the second, was charged with his sixth defeat against 10 victories.

Except for the third inning when Raschi singled and scored on a triple by Wally Moon, Erskine was complete master of the Cardinals. Erskine himself drove in the winning run. After hits by Jackie Robinson and Rube Walker, sandwiched around a walk to Walt Moryn, had produced the tying run in the fifth, Erskine came through with a single to score Moryn.

The Giants swatted Bob Rush for 12 hits, including Hank Thompson's 19th home run with two on base, to extend their latest winning streak to five straight. Ruben Gomez spaced five hits and struck out seven for his 10th victory.

Back-to-back doubles by Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron, followed by Joe Adcock's single, produced two fifth-inning runs that enabled the Braves to break a 1-1 tie with Philadelphia. Andy Pafko's 13th homer also helped Warren Spahn register his 11th victory with a six-hitter. Murray Dickson took the defeat.

Veteran first baseman Phil Cavarretta drove in two runs with a double and single, and scored another to give rookie southpaw Jack Harshman all the runs he needed to beat the Red Sox.

Three hits apiece by Chuck Harmon and Jimmy Greengrass and shutout pitching by lefty Joe Nuxhall until the ninth featured Cincinnati's victory over Pittsburgh. Ray Boone drove in both Detroit runs with his 15th home run and an infield out as southpaw Billy Hoeft blanked the Senators with five hits.

The Athletics made only five hits off three Baltimore pitchers but took advantage of five errors to pick up six unearned runs, all they got, as they moved to within two percentage points of the seventh-place Orioles.

Hooper Finishes Third At Richwood Speedway

Marion's Paul Hooper came in third in the feature event at the Richwood Speedway last night.

Neal Sceva of Columbus won the race with Jim Umstead of Belle Center second and J. T. Jones of Richwood fourth. Sceva took over the lead on the third lap but was pressed all the way by Umstead.

Indians Sweep 2 at Prospect In Teen Loop

Marion's Indians tied Prospect for leadership in the American League of the County Teen Loop by sweeping both ends of a twin bill last night at Prospect.

The locals handed the Prospect nine 1-0 and 8-3 defeats to leave the Marion and Prospect squads tied for first in the American League. A close second in the tight loop race is Green Camp.

Harold Jones blanked Prospect on one-hit in the opener as he outduelled Prospect's Bob Rodgers. Rodgers himself only gave up two hits but one was a triple by Phil Carroll.

The hit by Carroll came in the first frame after two were out and was followed by an error on Howard Gruber's hit which permitted Carroll to cross the plate with the only run.

Rodgers settled down to hold the Indians runless and hitless up to the seventh when Gruber banged out a single but Jones was just as effective. The Marion Indians hurler was touched for the lone hit in the fourth by Remlinger.

Jones struck out 11 while walking six while Rodgers fanned 11 and walked one.

A 12-hit assault, which accounted for four runs in the very first inning, carried the Indians to victory in the nightcap.

Larry Corbin went the route for the winners. He allowed Prospect only seven hits as he struck out 12 and walked four and hit two batsmen.

Prospect sent three hurlers to the hill in an attempt to halt the locals. Lauer started but B. Emery and Landon later took over. The Prospect twirlers were nicked for 12 hits as they struck out nine and walked six.

Highlight of the first frame in which the side batted around was Jones' homer which concluded Marion's first inning scoring. Jones' blast followed a pair of hits and a walk. His second homer accounted for Marion's fifth run in the third.

The locals added another run in the fourth on a pair of walks and hit and got another on a four-master by Larry Coy in the fifth. Marion concluded its scoring in the sixth on a pair of hits, fielder's choice, error and a walk. Three straight hits in the final frame failed to produce a run.

Prospect was held to a single hit in every frame and scored once in the fourth, sixth and seventh off Corbin.

Jed Middleton banged out four hits for the Indians in five trips to the plate while Jones collected two—both homers. Don Shoemaker, Carroll, Gruber, Coy, Eddie Kurtz and Bill Lavender punched out the other bingles.

R. Emery had three hits for the losers and Rodgers two. Remlinger and Landon got the others. Landon's was a triple which came after one was out in the first. He was stranded as Corbin bore down to strike out two batters and end the inning.

The Indians were being managed by Max Roseberry, new manager who replaced Bob Shoemaker. Shoemaker is preparing to attend college.

Johnny Temple, Cincinnati Redleg second baseman, is a whiz at running bases. He stole home three times in his first 21 games in the majors, and led the Texas League in steals with 30 in 1951.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned down sharply today when a sudden wave of profit taking produced a late tape for half an hour. A recovery movement began when the selling flurry ended.

Trading started fast with prices generally higher. Aircrafts continued yesterday's advance and most other sections were either steady or slightly higher.

After the first hour, steels began to soften with Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet, reported ready to merge, losing ground. At 11:34 a. m., EDT, the tape began to run late as sell orders swamped brokerage houses.

By 11.41 a. m., the tape was four minutes late and Youngstown had lost five points. Other steels were also off sharply. Aircrafts lost most of their earlier gain—as much as three points in some cases—and motors, copper mining and railroad securities were under heavy pressure.

The tape cleared at 12 04 p. m., and prices began to firm slightly. The trading pace slowed almost as suddenly as it had spurted.

Brokers said the wave of selling was to be expected in view of the market's sharp rise in recent weeks.

Among the decliners were U. S. Steel, Goodyear, International Harvester, Radio Corp., Homestake, Union Carbide, General Dynamics, Westinghouse, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Loew's.

Holding firm were Boeing, United Aircraft, National Distillers, General Motors, Allied Chemical and General Electric.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Terribly Important Moment for Peace

When Eurovision linked eight different nations speaking a total of six different languages, problems, naturally, sprouted like weeds. But, at the same time, the very differences among these nations excite interest in a television show. We in America can jump

J. CROSBY

3,000 miles and nothing changes very much. Red Skelton looking pretty much the same whether he emanates from New York or Hollywood.

Here, a jump of a couple of hundred miles means a drastic change in the scenery, in the people and in the way they do things, and Eurovision plans to exploit these differences. The French have decided that there is very little point in broadcasting to seven different countries something that is not unique to the originating country. The flower show from Switzerland was rather a failure because it didn't look much different from a flower show in France or Great Britain or Pasadena.

ON THE OTHER HAND, Beethoven's Fifth as played by an Italian symphony is quite different from the Fifth played by a London symphony, and the very differences to music lovers are a bridge to understanding between the two nations.

Language, which is not so much a problem here as it would be in the states, is still a formidable barrier. Plays, the French believe, cannot be offered to people speaking six different tongues, but opera probably can.

Ballet speaks an international language and so does sports. One of the great successes of the first month-long experiment with Eurovision was Le Mans, one of the world's great auto races, and the world's championship soccer matches in Switzerland (though some people complained there was too much soccer.)

Television in the eight countries is at wildly different stages of evolution. The British have had it, at least in experimental stages, since 1936. The Swiss have barely got television off the ground. The Danes have been at it only a few months. Naturally, the more experienced nations are better at it than the novices and this eventually will have a healthy effect on all European television.

IF, FOR INSTANCE, the British come up with a stunningly effective variety show, the French are going to start asking: "Why can't we do it, too?" And so are the Swiss and the Italians and the Germans. Competition has been notoriously absent from European radio and from European television, where monopoly rules. Competition, it is felt, cannot fail to lift standards everywhere.

The very fact that Eurovision once existed is a powerful stimulus of its own. Just the other day "Le Figaro" in Paris grumbled editorially about a state visit made by French President Rene Coty to Holland. The visit was well covered by French radio but where, asked "Figaro," was television?

The first stage of Eurovision, the paper said, was a complete success but it must not stop there. The public — what little TV public there is — has found something it likes and it wants more. The commercial interests, too, have found Eurovision a lovely thing. During its month - long trial run the French press was larded with advertisments for TV sets to an unprecedented degree.

ABOUT A WEEK AGO, representatives of the eight countries met near Rapallo in Italy to discuss the first performance and chart the next. Practically everyone agreed that live television had the greatest impact and the greatest future. Europeans can see films any time — but a soccer match in progress or the Pope talking to them, live, in five different languages—that was the thing.

In London last weekend 13 nations, including Russia, met to discuss a proposed European television network. This conference was sponsored by UNESCO, which has been betting all along that television is a far greater force for harmony than for disharmony among nations.

The next stab at Eurovision will be sometime in the fall, possibly not before December. The Russians indicated at London they wouldn't be ready to get in before 1955. The Russians are understandably concerned because Eurovision has already— in a very small way — pierced the Iron Curtain. East Berliners can see it from transmitters in West Berlin.

IT ALL STARTED back in 1952 when the British and French exchanged programs for one week. In 1953 came the coronation, certainly the biggest single international event television ever had (and one which Frenchmen watched with almost as much curiousity, though not so great reverence, as the British). In 1954, Eurovision. Looming in the future is intercontinental television when the Pope might speak from the Vatican clear to San Francisco.

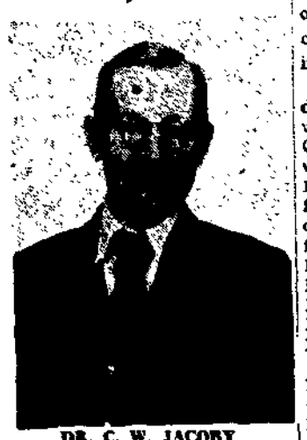
Funeral Friday

C. W. Jacoby, 88, Retired Marion Physician, Dies

Dr. Charles W. Jacoby, 88, who practiced medicine in Marion County 50 years, died at 1 p.m. yesterday in his home on the Neidhart Rd. in Pleasant Township. Retired in 1949, he received at that time his 50-year gold medal from the Ohio State Medical Association. He was a member of the Marion County Academy of Medicine and of the state and national medical associations.



DR. C. W. JACOBY
Retired in 1949

Born June 24, 1866, in Richland Township, he was a son of Michael and Catherine Emery Jacoby, members of prominent Marion County families. Sept. 4, 1898, he married Mary Zeig of Pleasant Township.

After attending the district school near his home, he began teaching when 18 years of age and was the instructor at district schools in Richland and Waldo Townships. At 21 he entered the old Ohio Normal University at Ada then went to Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, being graduated there in 1895. That fall he entered Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, Pa., where he was graduated in 1898, then entered the practice of medicine at Morral. In 1911 he moved to Pleasant Township. He was a member of the Morral School board four years.

Besides his membership in the medical societies he was a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Richland Township, of Marion Lodge 70, F & AM, of the K of P Lodge at Waldo, and of Whetstone Grange. He collected Indian relics and souvenirs.

Surviving are his widow, and his son, Col. Leslie E. Jacoby of Atlanta, Ga.; three grandchildren, Katherine, John Michael, and Mary Susan Jacoby; and sisters, Miss Daisy Jacoby and Mrs. Chester Gibbons, both of Philadelphia, Pa. His brother, J. Wilbur Jacoby, Marion attorney, preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. in the Schaffner-Denzer Funeral Home on E. Center St. in Marion. Rev. W. F. Kissel will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after tomorrow noon.

Earth Building Blocks Speed Sudan's Efforts

KHARTOUM — (UP) — The Carlstein block press — a South African invention that compresses earth into house-building blocks— is being tried out by the Sudanese government with a view to stepping up the country's lagging housing program.

The blocks, containing only nine per cent cement, are being used in this house-building experiment at Omduran. The project is relatively small but rather ambitious.

Each of the 24 houses, designed by the Sudanese public works department and being built from the earthern blocks, will have two room 15 x 9-6, a kitchen, shower oom 15 x 9-6, a kitchen, showe bath and a simple septic tank latrine.

The total cost of each house is expected to be about $1,120—some $560 lower than the nearest contractor's price.

The Sudanese government had found it necessay to find means to provide adequate but cheaply built homes to keep their housing program abreast of the steady drift of people from country areas to the towns.

In this vast country of scattered communities struggling against the natural poverty of a land, many parts of which is desert or swamp, the fundamentals of any building program—speed, simple erection and costs—have jostled each other towards an impasse which only the government's present action can help to overcome.

Manufacturers of the Carlstein block press claimed that their machine could double the Sudan's building rate and reduce costs.

A number of the presses, manufactured in the Kimberly factory of the South African engineer of Swedish origin who invented the machine, J. B. Carlstein, have been used successfully in South Africa for about three years. The Sudan was the first country outside the Union to use it.

The press is of simple design and the motivating power is compressed air. The daily seven-hour output of a Sudanese operator averages 800 blocks. An automatic reloading system enables the machine to maintain continual production.

Work Aids Recovery

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Morris (Pop) Gilder, who worked as a barber for 63 years without a vacation, took a trip to Atlantic City for a rest at the insistence of his family.

The vacation lasted two days. Pop came down with a mysterious malady which was diagnosed by a physician as "loafing sickness."

"You're sick of loafing," get back to the barber shop," he said.

The 74-year-old "prince of tonsors" hasn't been ill since.

Turkey reports she has 4,300 people more than 100 years old out of a population of 21 million.

Ex-Kenton Businessman Dies at Home in Arizona

KENTON — Claude F. Lay, 62, former Kenton resident of Mesa, Ariz., died Sunday night at his residence. He had been ill for the past 11 years and death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Born April 2, 1892, in Hardin County, he operated a repair garage in Kenton, a grocery in Grants, and later took up farming until his health forced him to move to Arizona. He was married in December, 1911, to Magdalena Mae Bechtel, who survives.

Other survivors include: three daughters, Mrs. Earl Ewing and Mrs. Don Hart of Kenton, Mrs. Warner Slack of near Kenton; nine grandchildren; his father, John Alonzo Lay of Upper Sandusky; four sisters, Miss Rosa Belle Lay of Upper Sandusky, Mrs. Ethel Reed of Lima, Mrs. Mae Rutledge of Alger, Mrs. Marie Bechtel of Bucyrus; three brothers, Ogland of Kenton, James of Upper Sandusky, and Ralph of Toledo.

Funeral services will be on Friday at 2 p.m. at the Price Funeral Home with Rev. H. K. Pfister of Troy officiating. Burial will be in Grove Cemetery.

Bucyrus Resident Dies In Home at Mt. Vernon

BUCYRUS — Albert A. Meck, 84, retired farmer of Bucyrus, died at 8:12 last night in the Northside Manor at Mount Vernon. In ill health 10 years, he was bedfast two years.

Born Oct. 20, 1869, in Lykens Township, Crawford County, he was a son of Adam and Christina Yeiter Meck. April 8, 1897, he married Sarah Hershberger. A resident of Bucyrus 16 years, he came here from Holmes Township. He was a member of First Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, and three children, Misses Kathryn and Ella Meck, both at home; and Milton H. Meck of Cuyahoga Falls; a brother, Amos W. Meck of Bucyrus, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Schieber of north of Bucyrus. Four brothers and six sisters preceded him in death.

Last Laugh

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UP) — Gus Ernst's laugh on the federal tax department turned into a sourgrapes frown.

Ernst figured the government owed him one cent when he filed his income tax. He put in a claim for a refund, planning to have a chuckle or two showing a one-cent check to friends.

"Your application for a refund has been received. However, on checking your return, we find that the mileage allowance was computed erroneously. Please remit an additional $20."

Widow of Former Local Pastor Dies

Mrs. Ethel May Hardy, widow of Rev. Samuel S. Hardy of Medina whose death occurred there July 16, died yesterday at 8 a.m. of a heart attack. Death occurred in the home of a brother in London, Ontario.

The Hardys were Marion residents 18 years while Rev. Hardy was rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here. He was stricken with a heart attack Tuesday, July 13, at an observance honoring the forty-fifth anniversary of his ordination and death occurred the following Friday in a hospital at Medina. He was rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church there. Following his burial at London, Mrs. Hardy had not returned to Medina.

Surviving with the brother, J. Kenneth Thompson, in whose home she died, are two daughters, Miss Dora Hardy and Mrs. Mary Grace Blank, both of Medina, and another brother and a sister, George E. Thompson of Nelson, British Columbia, and Mrs. H. Frank White of London.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Logan Funeral Home in London and burial will be at London.

OLDEST AT DARTMOUTH

HANOVER, N. H. (UP) — Joseph S. Matthews, 92, the oldest Dartmouth graduate, attended this year's commencement exercises. The retired associate justice of the state's supreme court is the president of the class of 1884 which has only two other living members. Originally it numbered 83.

No Privacy

ALBAY N. Y. (UP) — Muskrats don't have the privacy they used to.

The New York state conservation department is now taking tape recordings of the furry animals in their deep underwater homes.

A waterproof microphone lowered into the hole in the marsh ice has been able to pick up by sound the activities of the animals. Any slight distrubance and the muskrats start "plunking" into the water from inside their rush and cattail houses.

Bilogists have been able to take recordings up to a distance of 60 feet, and can determine the exact number of "tenants" in each home. The practice, a department spokesman said, makes it easier to determine the muskrat population and other needed data for trapping seasons.

Five Are Hurt In Crash Near Mount Gilead

Five persons including four teen agers, were slightly injured when two trucks collided on a county road in Morrow County at 12 30 p m

State patrolmen from the Marion post report the accident happened on Road 119 about seven miles northeast of Mount Gilead.

Injured were

Carl Lane, 17, of Mount Vernon, driver of a milk truck

Robert VanHouten, of Fredericktown, a passenger in the Lane truck

Donald Deel 16 of near Mount Gilead, driver of the other truck

Nathan Deel, 52, Donald's father

Chester Baxter, 18, of near Mount Gilead, a passenger in the Deel truck

Patrolmen report the two trucks collided head-on at the crest of a hill on the road The Lane truck was overturned and demolished Heavy damage was done to the entire body and cab of the Deel truck

All five persons were taken to the Morrow County Hospital in Mount Gilead by a passing motorist Lane suffered a lacerated left knee Van Houten had lacerations of the left ear and left cheek Donald Deel received a bruised right knee; and his father and Baxter had bruised right shoulders

At the hospital they were treated and released. Patrolmen report the Lane truck was loaded with dairy products at the time

SHALL I GO ON, MADAME? DO YOU WANT TO HEAR MORE?
NO! DON'T SAY ANY MORE, CLARISSE!
GO ON, CLARISSE! FINISH WHAT YOU STARTED! YOU SAID KAREN WENT TO THE CHILD'S ROOM—AND IT WAS TOO LATE FOR YOU TO STOP HER!
TO STOP HER FROM DOING WHAT?
THE TRUTH IS THAT KAREN WENT TO HER CHILD'S ROOM BECAUSE SHE HEARD HEIDI'S CRIES! HEIDI HAD BEEN INJURED BEFORE KAREN WENT INTO THE ROOM—ISN'T THAT RIGHT, CLARISSE?

New Safety Device

DETROIT — (UP) — L. E. Briggs, Ford Motor Co. treasurer, predicts that drivers some day may fall asleep at the wheel in safety.

For researchers are experimenting with an electronic device that detects "symptoms of drowsiness on the part of the driver," Briggs said.

The device, he said, would warn the sleepy driver that it's time to pull off the road."

Five Accidents Reported Here By City Police

Pedestrian Suffers Slight Injuries; No County Mishaps Listed

A pedestrian was slightly injured in one of five accidents reported today by city police. One of the accidents involved damage of less than $100. State patrolmen from the Marion post and sheriff's deputies reported no accidents on Marion County roads and highways in the past 24 hours.

Guy R. Summers of the Highway Hotel received a skinned right elbow and possible neck injury at 9:40 p.m. Tuesday when he was struck by a left-turning car at the corner of Main and Center Sts.

Driver of the car was Fletcher E. Shoup, 37, of 183 S. Prospect St. He told police he did not see the man crossing the street.

A hit-skip driver was arrested after police traced the license number on his car which he left a short way from the scene of the accident Tuesday night. At 11:57, police were called to Avondale Ave. and Silver St. where a car, in trying to turn left from Silver St. had knocked down a street sign post.

The car was found parked on Avondale Ave. with a headlight damaged. Police this morning arrested Howard Colegrove of 867 Adams St. and charged him with leaving the scene of an accident.

Cars driven by Charles A. Hopkins, 28, of 762 E. Mark St. and by Harvey Woy, 49, of 905 Oak Grove Ave. were damaged in an accident Tuesday at 3:50 p.m. at the corner of S. Main St. and Columbia St. Police reports show Woy tried to make a left turn and the two cars collided.

A truck driven by John W. Johnston, 27, of 203 Wallace St. was damaged in the left rear end when struck from behind by another truck driven by John I. Huffman, 28, of Akron. The accident happened on N. Main St. in front of the Moose Lodge. Police reports indicate Johnston's vehicle was stopped.

Court Suit Against Auto Dealer at Galion Settled

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Common Pleas Court officials announced here today that the $1,410 action for money of Merrill Zirkle, Mansfield, against Earl A. Wiener, Galion automobile dealer, has been settled out of court and dismissed.

The case in which the plaintiff charged that he had been defrauded in a car trade deal was scheduled for trial beginning Tuesday.

Zirkle claimed that in October, 1952, he traded Wiener two cars for a sports roadster and that Wiener raised the agreed price. When he later returned the roadster, Wiener refused to make restitution for the cars received as trade-ins, according to Zirkle's petition. In an answer filed by Wiener, the Galionite denied that the agreed selling price had been correctly stated by the plaintiff and charged that the roadster had been repossessed by the University CIT Credit Corp. after Zirkle had refused to make payments

Special Event To Mark 65th Wedding

Morrow County Couple Will Greet Relatives Of 5 Generations

CARDINGTON — "It was the hardest thing I ever had to do," smiled Albert Denton Sr. of near Cardington.

He was referring to the eventful day when at the age of 20 he asked for Mrs. Denton's hand in marriage. That was 65 years ago.

EVIDENTLY father-in-law said, "yes," for the Dentons observed their 65th wedding anniversary July 28. There was no special celebration at that time because a place at which to hold such an event could not be found. Having such an observance at the Denton home was immediately ruled out. There are 172 in the five-generation family when they all get together and that takes plenty of space. So, come Aug. 15, the Dentons and their 10 children, 42 grandchildren, 62 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren will gather at Long's Lake, one mile north of Cardington, for a picnic dinner and reunion.

The Dentons were married July 28, 1889, at the home of Rev. Levi Sherwood, south of Ashley. The minister was pastor at a country Baptist church, north of Westfield, where the young couple attended. They are both Morrow County natives and attended schools in Morrow County.

Most of their married life was spent on a farm north of Ashley, but the Dentons first started housekeeping in Waldo Township, Marion County. They moved to a farm and later to the Ashley farm site where they rented a log cabin. Finally, they bought the 50-acre Ashley site and later another 100 acres and built a house. It was there that they spent 31 years of their married life together and there that they raised a family of 11 children.

CARING FOR A large family and doing her housework, minus the modern conveniences, didn't leave much spare time for Mrs. Denton. She, and many other housewives of that day, made the baked goods for the table. Two loaves of bread were usually consumed within the course of one meal at the Denton table

When it came to doing the family wash, the scrubbing board, soap and plenty of elbow grease were all any housewife needed. Later, much to the protests of Mrs. Denton, her husband purchased one of those "new fangled" washing machines, the kind you cranked and waited for to fall apart.

Mr. Denton's main occupation was contracting for ditch and sewer work in the area. He followed that line of work for about 20 years. When the depression of the 1930's came on, he farmed his own land so he could provide for his large family.

The Dentons, who remain remarkably alert, are both in good health. They attend the Cardington Methodist Church and go shopping when their children drive them into town. Until this year, Mr. Denton even had a sizable garden. The only thing that ruined his gardening career, he commented, was the doctor, who ruled such activities out.

Mrs. Denton is a skilled crocheter. During the four years that the couple have lived in their present home, she has crocheted delicate edgings for about 60 pairs of pillow cases which she presents as gifts to relatives and sometimes sells.

FOR THE CELEBRATION of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary, the family gathered at their home, which was then . st south of Cardington Most of the family managed to attend and they again plan to be present for the 65th anniversary. Plans for the celebration this year were started about a month ago by the couple's grandson, Doyle Wertz of Bucyrus, who owns two rest homes, one at Bucyrus and one at Centerburg

The Denton children include: Owen Walter Denton of Cardington, Mrs. Bertha Alspach of Marion, Sperry John Denton of Galion, Mrs. Stella Parmer of Alexander, William Ernest Denton of Marion, Harold Hayes Denton of Cardington, Mrs Zelma Marie Dennis of Marion, Lloyd Gerald Denton of Marion, Mrs. Dorothy Gay Miley of Waldo, and Albert Edward Denton of Cardington. One daughter, Mrs. Gerta Ann Wertz, is deceased.

IN OBSERVANCE OF THEIR 65TH WEDDING anniversary, the five generations of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Denton's family will gather for a picnic on Sunday, Aug. 15. The couple exchanged nuptial vows July 28, 1889.

Charges Filed Against 2 After Park Escapade

Two Canton men face charges in Municipal Court today after state patrolmen arrested them as an aftermath to one of them being reported naked in the Morrow County State Park Tuesday evening.

Patrolmen reported this morning that they received a call about 7 p.m. Tuesday that two men, one of them naked, were in a state of intoxication in the park located on State Route 61, just south of U. S. Route 30-S.

When patrolmen went to the scene, they discovered the men had left However, the car in which the two men fled was seen heading toward Galion.

Patrolmen reported they gave chase and spotted the car as it doubled back and traveled toward Marion. Officers say the passenger in the vehicle, Samson S. Ackers, 40, was trying to drive the vehicle while the driver, Michael D. Kanam, 39, was putting on his clothes.

After chasing the men along Route 30, with the fleeing car weaving from side to side on the road, patrolmen finally stopped them in Caledonia.

At the time of stopping, Kanam was clothed only in his underwear. The men were taken to Marion city jail where Kanam was charged with indecent exposure and driving left of center. Ackers was charged with being in physical control of a motor vehicle while in the state of intoxication

Kanam was placed under $2,500 bond while Ackers was put under $150 bond.

Patrolmen say they will consult Morrow County prosecuting attorney, Gail Weller, this morning to file charges there as the result of the incident in the park.

MILK PRICE CLIMBS

BUCYRUS — Milk prices went up one cent a quart here today, reflecting a similar hike announced recently in other area cities. New price of regular milk will be 19 cents a quart while homogenized milk will sell for 20 cents. Dairymen blamed the curtailment of the milk supply, resulting from the dry weather, for the increase.

Husband Slays Wife, Then Self

Father Sees Killing Of Bellaire Woman

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP)—Police said a 56-year-old father last night stood by helplessly while his daughter was slain by her estranged husband. The husband died a few hours later of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Dead were Sanford Seevers, 27-year-old electrician, and his wife, Irma Campbell Seevers, 26. She was shot in the head and neck with a .38 caliber revolver. Seevers died later at City Hospital of head wounds. They had been married seven months.

The tragedy occurred at the home of Mrs. Seever's father, Clifford Campbell. She had moved there after separating from her husband

Seevers worked at the Continental Can Co. in Mount Vernon.

The couple had no children, but Mrs. Seevers had a 9-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

Rotarians Hear Youth's Views On Democracy

Boy Governor of Ohio Lists Responsibilities Of Adults to Children

The responsibility today's adults face in passing on their heritage of American democracy to their children was stressed by Charles Collins III of Cincinnati in a talk at the weekly luncheon meeting of Marion Rotary Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Taking as his subject "Youth Speaks on Government," Collins based his speech on one of the steps which he used in his platform to be elected "boy governor of Ohio" as a climax to the YMCA "Youth Speaks on Government" program this year.

Named to Office

The program was climaxed April 23-25 when youths "elected" to state offices helped "govern" Ohio from the offices of their adult counterparts at the state capitol in Columbus. Collins was the first Negro youth elected as boy governor.

A 1954 Cincinnati high school graduate, Collins said he felt he was elected on the strength of the sixth step in his platform, entitled "The American Way." In detailing what he feels it means to be a free American, he told of listening as a small boy to stories told by his great grandmother, who was born into slavery and later freed.

He said today's youth must prepare to accept tremendous responsibilities on both the domestic and international scene, and the present generation of adults should do all it can to pave the way for perpetuating American principles.

Collins plans to enter the ministry. He was introduced by Arthur L. Haas, Rotary program chairman for August.

New Member Introduced

Introduced into the club as a new member was Dr. Ransome Williams, Marion physician.

Visiting Rotarians were J. L. Patterson of Cardington and Harold W. Robinson of Sydney, Australia, the immediate past president of his Rotary Club there.

Guests included James Kratzer, John McDaniel, Robert Knachel, and E. D. Halsey, all of Maron.

U. S. hospitals had 20 million patients in 1953.

Church Quintet To Sing

Bringing a program of sacred music to the Likens Covenant Church here Friday night will be a group known as the Missionaires of North Park College which is located at Chicago, Ill. The group, composed of five students, accompanied by a faculty representative, is pictured above and shown from left to right, standing, are Sarah Nordstrom, Kenneth Johnson, Burdette Palmberg, and Miriam Coleman, and seated at the piano is Ardis Adell.

Engaged in a 10-week summer tour of the Great Lakes and middle-eastern sections of the country, the musicians presented programs in and around Chicago throughout the school year. The concert includes vocal quintet numbers, vocal trio, and cornet solo. Four of the young people were graduated in June from the Junior College and expect to continue their education, and one was graduated from the department of religious education. All were active in campus programs of a varied nature including music, religious, scholastic, and social clubs and student government. They plan careers in religious education, teaching, nursing, and the ministry.

Basket Dinner Scheduled For New Citizens of U.S.

Of interest here is the announcement of another rally for "new Americans," those known at one time as "displaced persons." The outing is set for Sunday at Mountain Lake near Bellefontaine.

A program and basket dinner is being arranged for the pleasure of those who have now made their homes in this country. Those interested in or actively connected with the program of resettlement in Ohio and Indiana are invited also to participate in the general fellowship of the day. Ministers and lay members of interested churches have special invitation, Ray M. Petersime of Gettysburg, O., backer of the event, stated. Mountain Lake is located on Ohio Route 47, six miles northeast of Bellefontaine.

President Eisenhower's physician urges him to play golf more often for the exercise.

Japanese Religious Speaker Scheduled For Local Address

Plans are under way by the Marion County Ministerial Association to provide for Marion next month an unusual privilege, the appearance of an internationally recognized Christian leader here.

Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese evangelist and world religious figure, on speaking tour of this country, will be heard Sept. 14 at Epworth Methodist Church. Marion is one of only a few cities in this section of the country to be able to secure him for a mass meeting. Attendance of at least 2,000 will be drawn from the area, the committee predicts. The local Kagawa committee is composed of Rev. J. Paul Goebel of First Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. Frederick W. Leech, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and Rev. L. E Ames, pastor of First EUB Church. National committee for the Japanese minister's tour in America is headed by Dr. Thoburn T. Brumbaugh who is directing the activity from headquarters at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Attending sessions of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., Aug. 15-31, Dr. Kagawa will be one of the speakers and consultants there. Preceding and following the convention, he is scheduled for a tour of more than 50 cities, being unable to fill many more requests for speaking engagements before he must return to Japan Oct. 20.

Angler Returns To Find His Car Riddled by Slugs

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three 'Dan'l Boones" couldn't find a b'ar to test their marksmanship on yesterday.

So they riddled Frank Jasgarszewski's automobile with nine .45-caliber automatic slugs and 10 from a .22-caliber rifle, peppering the right tires, rear glass and right side.

He said he noticed three men shooting at a nearby tree when he parked to go fishing in the Ohio River. He returned to find his car shot up and the men gone.

The first regular U. S. passenger services using Diesel locomotives were set up in 1934.

Kenton Council Will Seek Levy

Two-Mill Tax Issue Slated on Nov. 2 Ballot

KENTON — Kenton residents next Nov. 2 will vote whether or not they will aid the city out of its financial dilemma.

City Councilmen decided Monday night to ask city voters for a two mill tax levy for a period of two years and passed a resolution to place the issue on the Nov. 2 ballot.

The move followed a long discussion of the city's financial plight and various ways and means of raising money to provide for the deficit of some $22,000 which is apparent in the 1954 budget, just being submitted to the Hardin County Budget Commission.

TEACHERS' PAY INCREASED

Just One Application of New HYDROCIDE COLORCOAT protects, beautifies, gives your exterior walls water repellency!

Nothing else is exactly like new Hydrocide COLORCOAT. Just one application primes, seals and finishes even the shabbiest looking masonry. Hydrocide COLORCOAT is heavy bodied and bridges hairline cracks—seals masonry pores—adds the beauty of color and an even-textured surface.

Unlike ordinary paints, Hydrocide COLORCOAT contains Silicone to give your walls outstanding water repellency. It gives an elastic surface, resistant to cracking and peeling due to its oil base reinforced with long fibered asbestos and other agents.

It requires a minimum of surface preparation and can be applied over oil base or water base coatings. Ready-to-use Hydrocide COLORCOAT can be easily applied with brush or spray and builds up to a textured surface many times thicker than ordinary paints.

You've never used anything as satisfactory as Hydrocide COLORCOAT. And it's backed by one of the greatest names in the building products industry. L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc., for over half a century suppliers of quality building products.

Report Due Soon on Tax Affairs of Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—On June 7 T. Coleman Andrews, U. S. commissioner of internal revenue, said his agency was looking into the financial affairs of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), and had been for months, and would wind up its investigation in 60 days.

The 60 days are almost up. Since Andrews made the public statement his men were checking on McCarthy's income tax returns in relation to his income, he will be asked to explain what the result is.

May Dodge Questions

Andrews may possibly refer questioners to Atty. Gen. Brownell as the appropriate person in government to give out the final word on an investigation of McCarthy.

It was Brownell who on Oct. 16, 1953, gave McCarthy a clean bill of health on questions of personal finances and possible election law violations but said the government was still investigating the Wisconsin Republican's income taxes.

A report issued by a Senate elections subcommittee on Jan. 2, 1953, raised questions about McCarthy's financial affairs and other matters, but it made no recommendations.

Since there has been no announcement yet on the results of the internal revenue agents' investigation of McCarthy, that makes three pieces of unfinished business hanging over his head. These are the other two:

1. The report of his own subcommittee which handled the McCarthy-Army hearings earlier this year, with McCarthy stepping off the group temporarily. That report is expected to say what the committee members think of the conduct of Army officials and McCarthy and his staff in their relationship which brought on the hearings. There may be conflicting reports.

2. The new investigation—ordered by the Senate Monday night—into McCarthy's conduct and accusations, mostly old, made by fellow senators. A special six-man Senate committee will handle this one.

No Clear-Cut Victory

McCarthy would have won a clear-cut victory this week if the Senate—after listening to Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) and others demand that McCarthy be censured—had voted against censuring him.

Since that didn't happen, the next best victory McCarthy could have won would have been this: a vote by the Senate to shove aside the whole touchy question of censuring him.

That might have been done by a parliamentary device. But it might have been so obviously a device for not casting a showdown vote on censure, that it could have been taken as a victory for McCarthy. That didn't happen either.

Instead, the Senate in an overwhelming 75-12 vote left it up to a special committee to conduct hearings and then recommend to the full Senate whether McCarthy should be censured.

Since this committee will be evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans, there's an excellent chance they'll look at McCarthy from opposite sides of the political fence and return a split verdict that winds up nowhere.

While McCarthy may not lose in these new hearings, he may not emerge a big winner either. A group of senators will testify against him. They didn't get mixed up in this fight with him to use featherdusters.

It will probably be a rough fight, lasting for weeks, perhaps months. And the longer it takes, the longer McCarthy will have to stay away from his Communist investigations which brought him fame and headlines.

Bees Sting Swimmers; Pool Protests in Court

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP)—Honey bees, who have found a happy hunting ground among the bareskins at the Arcola Pool, better carry on their buzz business somewhere else in the future.

The pool obtained a temporary injunction against the nearby Tally Ho Inn, where five bee hives are kept, ordering the Inn owners to show cause why they should not confine the bees to their own back yard.

Pool operators claimed the bees have stung 40 bathers.

Susan Hayward's Spouse Seeks To Block Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A legal maneuver to block Susan Hayward's divorce suit has been instituted by counsel for her husband, actor Jess Barker.

A petition of recrimination was filed yesterday by Barker's attorney, S. S. Hahn, with the judge who has the divorce case under submission. Hahn said he resorted to the little-used petition because Barker did not want to file a cross-complaint for divorce.

"He wants her back," the lawyer explained. "He wants her divorce denied on the grounds that she did things to him just as bad as the things she says he did to her."

Miss Hayward has said Barker tossed her into the swimming pool and paddled her. He said she provoked these acts by "unwifely behavior" that included burning him with a cigaret.

Truck Runs Over Boy; He 'Doesn't Feel Good'

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—"I didn't feel so good. I was awfully scared."

That is what eight-year-old James C. O'Shea of Council Bluffs had to say about having a wheel of a 2,500 pound tractor parked on his chest.

James said it happened when his pants leg caught in the sprocket chain of his bicycle.

"I took one foot off the bike and tried to get my pants loose," James related. The next thing he knew he was off the bike and under the tractor.

Tractor driver E. T. Jackson, 59, said James skidded into the tractor and when Jackson stopped it the boy was under a wheel. His injuries were but bruises.

Ex-Grid Star Denies Charge Of Mail Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Ohio State football star James (Shag) Thomas, 29, yesterday denied he stole mail while working at the Columbus post office. He said his arrest was due to a "mixup" over a little "horseplay." A preliminary hearing was set for today.

He was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlon after two postal inspectors said they saw him leave work Monday night with a bundle of letters.

He had been employed at the post office two years and also wrestles professionally throughout the Midwest under the name of "King Toby."

Thomas told the commissioner he had been pulling practical jokes on a co-worker, switching mail on him. He said he ran from the two inspectors when they fired at him because he didn't know who they were. The inspectors said they fired a shot over his head when he ran.

The inspectors, T. J. Meehan and C. A. Maddux, said Thomas jumped over a riverbank near the post office when they fired and slid into the water. Postal officials said most of the mail was lost in the river.

Thomas was a guard on the 1948 and 1949 Ohio State university football teams. He later played for the professional Green Bay Packers.

Bond was set at $2,000 and he was held in city prison.

Manslaughter Charge Filed in Boat Accident

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Fairfield County Sheriff Dudley Crider has filed manslaughter charges against Andrew Sullivan, 49, a Columbus machinist, operator of a boat which struck and killed a Ross County man last Thursday.

Henry Minor, 29, of Kingston was killed when the motor boat hit him as he and a companion were wading near Leib's island in Buckeye Lake. The companion, William Blimes, 35, of Millersport escaped injury.

Sullivan told authorities he was pulling a water skier who had fallen into the lake when he heard a thud and screams. He said he did not know he had struck anyone.

Writers Union Calls Off Strike Against Networks

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A strike against three networks by the Television Writers of America, an independent union, has been called off.

Ben Starr, union president, said yesterday the strike lacked the support of other writers.

The union called the walkout July 21 against the Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co. Union demands included "equitable minimums, reuse fees and the union shop."

For a half-hour commercial script the union had asked $715, whereas the best offer from the studios had been $450 and, when negotiations were suspended, this offer had been reduced to $425. There are no fixed scales at present.

Is There a Coffee Scandal?

Tempers have been raised to the percolating point by the Federal Trade Commission report that the high price of coffee in the United States is by no means a clear-cut case of cause and effect. The Brazilian version of frost damage and demand exceeding supply was oversimplified, to state it mildly, says FTC.

Trading speculation and irregularities, plus confused reports on crops, plus a Brazilian price-support policy, plus the age-old tendency to make hay while the sun shines all have had something to do with the high price of coffee, according to FTC. This scattergun accusation has struck a great many people in sensitive places. All of them are complaining.

But while they are complaining, a coffee consumer might wonder why it is a scandalous matter when the price of coffee goes higher than he would like it to go and not a scandalous thing at all when the prices of many other things go higher than he would like them to go. Neither the Federal Trade Commission nor any other official agency seems to be alarmed and upset about high prices of other food commodities.

Yet, all of these commodities, like coffee, are affected by the same things that affect the price of coffee. Brazilians have been wondering why it is so much worse for them to want to keep the price of coffee high than it is for Americans to want to keep the prices of wheat, corn, peanuts and cotton high. And why should it be worse for the coffee trade to engage in the buying, selling and speculation that are characteristic of commodity markets than for other trades to do the same thing?

Why are so many kettles suddenly so intent on calling the coffee pot black?

World Standard of Value

The Atomic Energy Commission's latest report, setting the capital investment in its properties at 5.7 billion dollars and total appropriations for its activities at 12 billion, suggests that here will be the world's ultimate standard of value.

For obvious reason, AEC does not reveal how many pounds of fissionable material it possesses in one form or another. It claims, however, that it is stockpiling this material at a rate which will carry out a presidential order to keep ahead of the Soviet Union in the nuclear arms race.

The stockpiles, it may be assumed, are in various government arsenals. Perhaps one of them might even be at Fort Knox, principal depository of the U. S. government's 22-billion-dollar hoard of gold. It would make an interesting comparison in real values to have an estimate of the value of the government's present hoard of fissionable material—a figure with no direct relationship to AEC's capital investment or the total appropriations for AEC activity to date.

For the first time in human history, men have developed a basis of value that is not inert. Fissionable material is not only rare but uniquely productive of wealth in itself, in the sense of being the most concentrated source of energy ever controlled by men.

As a change from worrying over atomic explosions, it is interesting to speculate that the fissionable atom may have ultimate usefulness as a worldwide basis of value, the function once performed by gold.

Hammer on the Head

No one knows where gunfighting will break out next on the perimeter of the Kremlin's influence. It may be somewhere in the Near East. It may be in Malaya. It may be in Latin America.

The important thing is that the Kremlin has the power to decide where it wants gunfighting to occur. In a world full of smoldering hatreds and unscrupulous leaders, all it needs to do is fan the sparks of anger into a hot flame of warfare.

Then when the time comes to take credit among its subjects and among its admirers, it can call off the violence it has begun. It is the same practice precisely as the one referred to in the sad gag about the fellow who hit himself on the head with a hammer because it felt so good when he stopped. Except, in the case of the Kremlin, it does the hitting with the hammer because a world that wants to live in peace always feels so happy when the hammering stops.

There was the same good feeling when the gunfighting stopped in Korea that there is now about its stopping in Indochina. And when it ultimately is started again and stopped somewhere else, there will be congratulations all around and, among those directly involved, a sense of gratitude to the Kremlin for stopping what it had started.

A former president of the United States, Herbert Hoover, once likened the Kremlin to a marauder who stalks through the corridor of a hotel trying the doors, to find the unlocked ones. The simile was too mild. The Kremlin is like a madman with a loaded pistol and a hostage to protect himself from the gunfire of the victims he intends to kill one at a time.

The hostage is the world's hope of averting World War III.

Whose Ox Is Gored?

McCarthy Censure Shows Senate Double Standard

There ought to be emblazoned over the Senate chamber an age old slogan "Justice — it all depends on whose ox is gored."

Thus for months now several Democrats and two or three misguided Republicans in the Senate have been trying to crucify Sen. McCarthy for using what they regard as rough tactics in dealing with Communist sympathizers, Communist party members and the whole apparatus by which the Soviet has been trying to infiltrate American institutions as well as the government.

McCarthy isn't the most tactful protagonist in the world and has made many mistakes, usually when goaded by his opponents or by uncooperative witnesses, but the move to censure him for "acts unbecoming a senator" is transparently aimed at weakening — in the court of public opinion — the influence of the nation's chief prosecutor of Communist activitiy.

For several days now, the Republican leaders have been at a loss how to meet this attack, which isn't just against McCarthy but is a carefully designed effort to smear the whole Republican administration and party. Now they have evidently discovered that the strongest defense is a strong offense.

So Majority Leader Knowland uncovered a bit of recent history which most people have forgotten, if indeed many paid much attention to it when it happened.

THE EPISODE started in the last days of the 1952 campaign with attacks by Democratic party spokesmen — particularly Mr. Truman — on the loyalty and honesty of Gen. Eisenhower. This correspondent called attention in a dispatch of Oct. 30, 1952, to this effort to smear the Republican nominee by impugning his loyalty and integrity, and noted that a "top secret" document had been "leaked" for the purpose of political campaigning.

Knowland now calls the facts to the attention of the American people. He says that a secret, classified document was made public on Oct. 27, 1952, by en. Morse who had decided to campaign for Gov. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee. Morse since has called himself an "independent."

The Oregon senator — who has been critical of the "methods" of McCarthy — says that the document was released to him by President Truman, and that the latter, as commander in chief, had a right to declassify the document.

Sen. Knowland, however, says that after the Morse speech was made, he asked the Defense Department and was told that the document was still classified as "top secret."

THE MAJORITY LEADER says if Truman was not just using official military documents for political purposes, he should have released the paper in question at the White House to all Americans at the same time and explained the reason for his action.

The point at issue relates to the withdrawal of American troops from Korea in 1949 — before the recent Korean War. It is known that the Joint Chiefs of Staff, of which body Gen. Eisenhower was a member, was asked in 1947 for its opinion on the defense of American interests in the Far East and came to the conclusion that, if a general war broke out in the Far East, there would be no sense in having American troops bogged down on the mainland of Asia.

This is a far different thing from a diplomatic decision by the President and secretary of state to withdraw American troops when no war was on and when, as a step in peacetime, the United Nations asked all governments to ithdraw their troops.

Eisenhower in 1952 was criticizing the American position in having withdrawn our troops without getting any guarantees of a unified Korea, and his speeches were directed toward a phase of the problem wholly unrelated to the specific military situation with which the secret classified document had been exclusively concerned.

It is a fact, therefore, that Truman did allow in a covert way some of the contents of the document to be used but did not publicly declassify the whole document until several days later. This is what has come to be known as "Trumanism."

THE FACT THAT a military paper of the highest confidential nature was "leaked" to one senator and its contents made public by him in the midst of a political campaign makes a shambles of the charge that the Wisconsin senator is deserving of censure because he received and made public reference to a document—dealing not with military affairs, but with personnel matters related to the work of his own investigating committee —which had been given to him by an employe of the executive branch of the government.

There are civil service laws which encourage the giving of information by executive employes to Congress, although there are prohibitions about transmitting certain confidential information.

Apparently secret documents of a military nature can be classified or declassified at will by a Democratic party president without arousing the righteous indignation of any Democrats in the United States Senate. For resolutions of censure evidently are reserved solely for use against Republicans who overzealously fight communism. It all depends on whose ox is gored.

Condition Good

By TRUMAN TWILL

There is nothing in the public domain of subject matter for columns like this one that packs more wallop than dogs. When we wrote about the mishap to the Irish setter at our house last week, the reaction was immediate and lively. Within a few hours we could have organized a posse to go hunting for whoever fired the shot that shattered his leg.

Many inquiries have been received, and this will pass on to a larger group the up-to-date information about the victim's condition. It is better than could be expected. Aside from the inconvenience of having a rear leg in a cast and leg and cast encased in a metal frame, which serves as a crutch, our dog is cheerful and enthusiastic.

He does not know what hit him or why. He does not know it was a hollow-point bullet that shattered his leg bone, then shattered itself into small fragments that will be imbedded permanently in his leg, along with the shotgun pellets that date from some previous less serious encounter with gun-happy humans.

One day last summer, we had to call the official-executioner of dogs to finish a job started by an awkward butcher bungler who had bown a hole in the side of a wretched dog and had left it to die from gangrene. It was found by friends of ours who were searching for a beautiful landscape to paint. When they found it, they also found grisly evidence of how ugliness can intrude itself on beauty.

But to get back to the Irish setter, he should be out of his cast in about three weeks. He does not know why he is in it. He does not know why he should always be on guard. And he does not know why people appoint themselves to be executioners of other living creatures on this earth.

Not all reactions to the account of his mishap were sympathetic. One lady said she would have liked to execute a pair of collies that tore up a bed of petunias, she was that angry when she saw them doing the damage. Hers was a restrained rebuttal, but she did speak for all the human beings who find it hard to forgive dogs for the damage they sometimes do.

People who have dogs find it hard, too. Our spaniel is continually excavating for moles and rabbits. Our Dalmatian, before he lost his first and only encounter with an automobile, loved to jump over the hedge and land in the flower bed. The setter goes through a new garden like the Russian army went through Poland.

Children do damage too. Occasionally, someone pops his mental cork and damages a child in retaliation. People who find it hard to tolerate the inconvenience of dogs frequently find it just as hard to tolerate the inconvenience of children. When they feel this way about sharing what belongs to them with inconsiderate mutts and kids, they'd be well advised to keep clear of both. There is no way to raise either without enduring inconvenience.

We do not think it is necessarily true that you can determine the progress of civilization by the way people treat animals. But we have a hunch you had better not put any chips on individuals and nations that are cruel to animals, because that is evidence they have no respect for life.

Our Irish setter is going to make it. Not knowing what happened or is likely to happen, he still has unquenchable enthusiasm. All things considered, he has a better chance to make it than some of his human contemporaries whose enthusiasm is quenched by their knowledge of what already has happened and their misgivings about worse things being cooked up by people who would as soon hurt people as dogs because they have no respect for life.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

One of the most successful attorneys in the county was John A. Wolford, a native of Marion County. Born in 1853, he graduated in the classical course from Hillsdale College and three years later received his master of arts degree from that institution.

He studied law with John F. McNeal and was admitted to the bar Dec. 31, 1878. The following day he formed a partnership with McNeal. In 1894 he opened an office of his own and three years later formed a partnership with D. R. Crissinger, continuing his practice until his death a year later.

One More Scalpee

'Yardstick' Is Political Catchword Only

By Raymond Moley

Over and over in the long atomic energy filibuster the opponents of the President referred to the TVA and other federal power projects as "yardsticks." Like many cliches worn by age, the meaning of this one has been forgotten by those who use it most.

The outstanding expression of this idea was by candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt in his speech outlining his power policy in Portland, Ore., in 1932. He announced at that time that he favored the building of federal power projects on the four rivers at the four corners of the nation, the Tennessee, the St. Lawrence, the Colorado, and the Columbia.

The federal installations which he proposed to build should, he said, be used as "yardsticks" and should not supplant the major private suppliers of power. Thus their use would be to help governments, state and federal, in their efforts to determine fair rates in the regulation of private companies.

ROOSEVELT'S reasoning, as he explained it to those of us who were with him at the time and who helped prepare the speech, was that since in a government project all the facts are available and controllable, such a project can be a pilot plant in determining what an accurate and fair price of the product could be.

Such an ideal called for keeping accurate standards of comparison in all factors in the pilot plant which involved cost. It would, as we now know, provide fair and accurate allowances for all costs in hich there is a differential between government and private production including, of course, interest and taxes of all kinds.

In the Portland speech Roosevelt said: "I have no objection to the method of control through a public service commission. It is, in fact, a proper way for the people to protect their interests."

Now I have no means of knowing all the factors which such commissions consider in determining the fairness of rates. But I seriously doubt that costs in government plants enter seriously into such calculations. There would be no need for such comparisons, it seems to me, because there is nothing in the books of a private company that can be hidden from a commission.

IN THE SAME SPEECH Roosevelt gave this additional assurance: "I state to you categorically that as a broad general rule the development of utilities should remain, with certain exceptions, a function of private initiative and private capital."

The Roosevelt who said this was not the same man who later, when under the almost hypnotic influence of Sen. George Norris, created the TVA. By that time the concept was of a vast and growing government business in the face of which private competition was impossible.

Such privileged business could not help but grow and grow, or, if you will, "creep" as in "creeping socialism," when as in the Roosevelt-Truman years the entire force of the national administration was thrown behind the expansion of the federal utility business.

THIS EXPANSION President Eisenhower proposes to modify or, if you will, check.

He is no enemy of the TVA within its present sphere of influence. But he is apparently determined that as new enterprises are required on the periphery of that sphere there shall be a fair opportunity for regulated private enterprise.

That has been the core of the controversy that has racked the Senate. The advocates of the TVA want to expand the government's operation more and more into the market no longer with what public power advocates call "that great God-given resource, water," but with more and more coal.

And so the idea of the "yardstick" has no meaning. It is a phrase good for vote-catching but devoid of substence.

We Still Have To Breathe

By MARK DANA

There's a danger that archaeologists of the year 2954 may decide that people back in 1954 were softies. They will find few well-worn hiking boots.

What they will dig up will include household gadgets which had motors for beating an egg or a rug; outboard motors on tiny boats instead of muscle-tempting oars; bank teller windows protruding so that motorists can transact business from behind a car wheel; fairly well preserved relics from grocery stores which indicated that customers waited on themselves.

True, the diggers also will find men's suits of a similarity of cut approaching the nature of a uniform, made of heavy material, although they'll also find filmy cool garments worn by women in hot days, hence may jot down in their research records that males of the skyscraper era were rather timid and long-suffering.

What started this near-philosophizing was a random press cable which tells that the Municipal Museum over in Amsterdam, Holland, is merchandising its exhibits in sale-promotion fashion. A sidewalk has been fixed to that street passers-by will pass alongide big showwindows—and just inside the glass are particularly attractive objects which fairly beg people to come in for a better view.

Some of our own museums and libraries have experimented with outdoor exhibits in a patio, on a portico, in a yard, or along a sidewalk. This takes culture to the people, to be sure, yet it tends to make people lazier, causing them to expect more self service. We already can have movies in our home via televised films, and grand opera served on our long-playing records. Would a museum which turns its walls inside out to lure people wary of opening museum doors be incongruous in an era of push-button living?

The fight of the United Nations and Park Commissioner Moses of Gotham to stop a huge sugar sign across the river from the U.N. headquarters has been lost, a city commission voting for the permit.

Let's not get depressed. The present outlook from all windows of the U.N. skyscraper is extra sour. . . . It is all vinegar in neon lights. Consequently it might be a great aid to world peace if the delegates could not look out from a window without seeing some glorification of sugar, with its message of sweetness.

Bigger Dividends Please Millions of Stockholders

NEW YORK (AP)—Some seven million owners of corporate stocks are extra happy today over tax relief on dividends. That's because dividend payments this year are riding 7.5 per cent higher than a year ago.

And prospects are good for generous divvying-up with the share owners in the rest of the year.

Run Counter to Drop

Percentage gains in dividends are greater than the rise in corporate earnings. And they run counter to the general drop in industrial activity.

The new tax law may help stockholders to get a still higher percentage of corporate gross earnings. Tax relief will allow many corporations to bring down a greater percentage of their gross earnings to net profits after taxes.

Since, henceforth, the shareholder won't have to report all of his dividends as taxable income, April 15 will be a happier day for him. And the amount involved isn't small.

The Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce reports that corporations paid out about 4¾ billions of dollars in dividends in the first six months of 1954. In the same period of 1953, a time of booming industrial activity, they paid less than four billions.

Not all stockholders have gained. Some have seen smaller dividend checks, or none at all. Companies cutting payments are scattered through most industries. But the federal agency reports that the industrial groups which have paid less as a whole are: Textiles, leather, non-ferrous metals, and automobiles.

Others in Category

To these the New York Stock Exchange, in its monthly magazine out today, adds the following from stocks listed with it: Farm machinery, American - owned companies operating abroad, and foreign stocks listed on the exchange.

For its 1,070 listed common stock issues as a whole, the exchange reports the gain this year in dividends paid out was 7.5 per cent. It says 924 of the common stocks paid dividends, with 520 shelling out the same amount as last year. But 314 paid more than a year ago, and only 125 paid less. The 125 are scattered through all 27 of the categories in which it lists its stocks.

Biggest percentage gain in amounts paid, the exchange reports, was in the aircraft industry, up 77 per cent. Largest dollar volume was by the utilities—104 of their common stocks paying a total of 561½ million dollars, a gain of 11 per cent. A close second was the 473 million total paid to share owners by only 49 oil and natural gas issues.

Wall street is betting on dividend payments increasing still more. First half earnings for industry as a whole pulled a shade ahead of the 1953 period.

Wall Street hopes a golden flow of dividends, plus tax relief, will lure more Americans into brokerage offices and push the number of share owners in the land above the present estimate of seven million.

Man's Shot Misses Bird, Scores Town-Sized Tilt

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP)—With nary a starling to show for his efforts, James Welch, a retired railroad conductor, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $6.80 before Judge J. Allen Vickery yesterday.

It seems Welch was trying to get the starlings out of the trees in front of his home. His efforts with a shotgun violated an ordinance about shooting in the city without a permit.

What aroused the local police was the fact his blast cut through a high tension wire. This fell on two distribution wires of the city's electrical system, and the whole town of 8,000 persons was blacked out Monday night for four hours.

Man's Loss of a Job Leads Him to Riches

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Eight months ago August urgens, 49, was laid off his job. Bad? Jurgens says certainly not, for now he owns a gas well as a result.

When he couldn't find work in town Jurgens decided to try farming at which he once worked. Wanting only some land so he could "have a place to work," he swapped two houses for the land.

It wasn't long before an oil company asked if it could drill on his land. The company brought in the gas well.

'Hollow-Belly' Major Cause In Milk Slump

Summer Production Helped by High Grade Forage, Experts Say

COLUMBUS — "Hollow-belly" is a major cause of summer milk slumps in dairy herds, two Ohio State University specialists say.

R. R. Starbuck, extension dairyman and Earl Jones, extension agronomist, said dairymen can maintain uniform summer production when cows have enough high quality forage to eat. They said alfalfa - grass pastures produce more summer feed than permanent pastures.

To get maximum yields from alfalfa-grass pastures, Jones and Starbuck advised dividing them into small lots so cattle will graze the growth down in three to seven days. This produces more feed per acre since it gives alfalfa and grass plants a chance to recover more quickly for later grazing.

Temporary electric fences are satisfactory to divide fields where permanent fences aren't arranged for rationed grazing, they said.

4-H Members Prepare for Exposition

JUDGING OF VARIOUS 4-H projects in preparation for the County Fair to be held Aug. 21 to 26 has occupied the time of Agricultural Extension Service officials in the past few weeks. Grades received in the judging determine the prize to be won at the fair.

UPPER: Elwood Parrott examines one of the shorthorn calves which was the project of Larry Price of the Martel Lads and Lassies 4-H Club.

Judging of Club Projects Under Way; Fair Contests Next

Preparations for the Marion County Fair which begins Aug. 21, were started in earnest during the past few weeks, as judging of 4-H projects was done throughout the county.

Projects of both boys and girls, who are members of the local 4-H clubs were judged. Miss Dorothy Gorby of the Agricultural Extension Service was in charge of rating the girls' domestic projects, while Elwood Parrott, also of the Extension Service judged the farming activities of the boys and girls.

The task of judging for Miss Gorby began last week and will continue for another week or more. She and an assistant, Mrs. John Dunbar of New Washington, have been going to meeting places of the various girls' 4-H groups and judging such things as nutrition, clothesmaking, first aid, personality, and junior leadership.

ACTIVITIES are graded A, B, and C. Prizes from the fair will be based on those grades. Three different grades are given for each girl; 50 per cent for the project, 25 per cent for the record book kept by the member; and another 25 per cent from the club advisor.

Miss Gorby reports there are 373 girls in 4-H Clubs in the county, with a total of 628 projects which must be judged.

Parrott's task is even more complicated. He must visit each farm and evaluate the merits of the program carried on by the young farmer. He estimates that he has about 300 projects to judge. About 240 of those are done by boys, while the other 60 are carried on by girls.

PARROTT SAID he uses a point system in his judging, evaluating the work done, in comparison with what the youth has to work with in the way of raw material.

He judges projects which include dairy and beef cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, rabbits, gardening, crops, road work, electric projects, and conservation projects.

Each farm must be individually visited, and the judging done on the basis of what the young farmer has to work with. That means evaluation of each case, with attention to the quality of the animals, in the case of livestock, and in the case of crop judging, to the type of soil, the tools with which the youth must work, as well as the skill shown by the finished product.

ALL YOUTHS, either boys or girls, may enter any completed project in the County Fair.

The girls may enter the nutrition show or style review to be held Tuesday, Aug. 24 at the Fair. Participation in those activities is voluntary and not required. Miss Gorby said, though, that taking part in the shows does give the girls an opportunity to learn to conduct themselves before the public.

Swine Expert Advises Buying of Herd Boars

COLUMBUS — Buy herd boars early as a first step in improving spring's pig crop, Herb Barnes advises farmers. Early buyers have more good animals to choose from and they can get boars settled in their new surroundings before the fall breeding season.

Barnes, Ohio State University, swine specialist reminded farmers to buy only from reputable breeders and to have boars tested for brucellosis before taking them into the herd.

Additional Secretaries Authorized in New Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed a bill authorizing the appointment of two additional assistant secretaries each for the Army, Navy and Air Force. This would give each of the departments four assistant secretaries instead of two.

Blackleg Seen Killing Calves

Vaccination of Cattle Called Best Protection

Early vaccination of calves is suggested as the surest way to protect against blackleg which threatens many cattle raising sections of the nation at this time of year.

"Calves between the ages of three months and two years are especially susceptible to this killer," warned the American Foundation for Animal Health. The warning applies in particular to farms where blackleg has broken out in past years. Infecting organisms are extremely difficult to destroy and may live in the soil from year to year.

Blackleg symptoms include lameness, swelling of some part of the body, fever, and loss of weight. However, the onset and course of the disease can be so swift that infected animals may die before symptoms are noticed. Blackleg deaths during sultry summer months are sometimes ascribed to lightning, and this misunderstanding may throw the farmer off guard.

"He may lose several animals before he realizes he is up against something even more dangerous than lightning," says the Foundation. "In case of any sudden animal death, the only safe procedure is to obtain an immediate diagnosis. If the trouble proves to be blackleg, vaccination will often protect the rest of the herd."

Extreme care in disposing of carcasses of blackleg victims was also emphasized by the Foundation. If removal is not feasible, the carcass should be burned or buried very deeply under lime to prevent contamination of the soil.

Mulches Eliminate Weeds, Help Soil, Horticulturist Says

By doing a good job of mulching, home gardeners can go vacationing and forget the weeds, according to Eugene Wittmeyer, Ohio State University extension horticulturist. Mulch also saves soil moisture, prevents soil puddling, helps keep soil temperatures uniform and releases plant nutrients when it decomposes.

Wittmeyer says hay and straw mulches should be three to four inches deep for best results, while two inches is deep enough for corn cobs, sawdust and shavings. A lot of different materials can be used for mulching, but try to avoid those that contain of lot of weed seeds, the specialist warns.

Sometimes materials, such as straw, chopped corn cobs and sawdust, are low in nitrogen and may cause soil nitrogen. To remedy this, add some nitrogen fertilizer.

Wisconsin Man To Talk at Day For Dairymen

Dean of Agriculture College To Speak at Experimental Station

WOOSTER—Rudolph K. Froker, dean of the college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin, will be one of the leading speakers at Ohio Dairy Day to be held here Friday, August 13.

Dean Froker is co-author of the plan of paying for milk on the basis of nonfat solids as well as fat. He has served as advisor for various governmental agencies and dairy industry groups. Subject of his talk is "New Economic Frontiers for Dairymen."

Teamed with Froker on the afternoon speaking session will be L. L. Rummell, director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station; and Fordyce Ely, chairman of the Station's department of dairy science. "Today's Challenge" is the subject of Rummell's talk. Ely will discuss the new special programs in agriculture for Ohio farm boys.

Dairy Day has been one of the top summer field days at the Experiment Station for the past 26 years. Thousands of Buckeye dairymen annually attend the event to hear the latest information on dairy cattle research.

July's Leading Dairy Herds in County Listed

The Marion County extension office today released a list of the leading cows on Dairy Herd Improvement Association and Owner-Sampler tests during July.

Owners, number of cows, pounds of milk and pounds of butterfat for leading DHIA herds are as follows:

	Cows	Milk	Fat
P. Lawrence & Sons	36	1260	49
W. R. Brooks	34	1450	48
Joseph Lawrence	20	1395	46
William Earl	20	1310	42
Richard Lawrence	23	1253	42
Frank H. Ruth	22	1299	40

Leaders in the Owner-Sampler test were:

	Cows	Milk	Fat
LeRoy Hinamon	12	1478	47
Emmett Beckel	13	1003	44

The extension service also released a lactation report. Owner, breed, pounds of milk and butterfat are as follows:

Gomer Johnson and son, 7-year-old Holstein, 20,810 and 680; H. W. Price and son, 7 year-old Brown Swiss, 13,700 and 626; William G. Earl, 6-year-old Holstein, 18,540 and 591; Harold Selter, 3-year-old Holstein, 14,070 and 551; and W. R Brooks, 4-year-old Holstein, 13,970 and 521.

Tight fences help keep predators away from chickens and turkeys on range.

Ohio Farm Economgram

Report on Prices and Economic Trends
Prepared by Agricultural Extension Service

Prices received by farmers in U. S. showed further slight decline during past month. Index, of 247 per cent of 1910-14 average in mid-July compares with 248 per cent, a month earlier and 260 per cent in July last year.

Prices paid by farmers also down a little in July. Lower prices for feed and livestock accounted for most of decline. Parity ratio stayed same as month earlier at 88. So far in 1954 parity has averaged 90. For same period last year it averaged 93.

—:—

Some parity comparisons in July: (figures in parenthesis are for July 1953). Wheat, 80 (77); Corn, 82 (83); Potatoes, 99 (55; Milk, 84 (94); Eggs, 75 (102); Hogs, 103 (117); Lambs, 86 (95); Soybeans, 124 (88); Beef cattle, 75 (81).

Dairy product prices increased three per cent in month ending July 15. This was more than usual seasonal increase. Average prices for all milk sold to plants and dealers in U. S. was $3.69 per hundredweight in July—Up 20 cents from month earlier, but 37 cents less than July 1953.

—:—

Egg prices stronger because of production drops—partially caused by extremely hot weather. After September look for production again to be running ahead of last year until next spring. Demand expected to continue strong.

—:—

Chickens raised on farms in 1954 estimated at 620,947,000, two per cent above 1953, but 16 per cent less than average. North Central States increased four per cent in past year.

Ohio feed prices: Mixed dairy feed costs to farmers averaged $4.05 per hundredweight in July (under 29 per cent protein)—down one per cent from last July. Poultry ration costs averaged $3.95 per hundredweight up four per cent from year earlier.

—:—

Farm produced food generally expected to be in large supply this fall and winter. Note—retail prices not likely to be down greatly. They are considerably more stable than farm prices. Due to sticky cost of services, such as transportation, packaging, etc.

Food consumption per person slightly above 1953. Increases expected for beef and veal, poultry, eggs, butter, shortening, cheese, fruit juices and frozen vegetables. Pork consumption less because of short supplies in first half of year.

Lamb crop in U. S. of 20,170,000 head in 1954 is three per cent above 1953. Increasing since record low crop of 1950 but still 10 per cent below average. Lambs saved per 100 ewes (94) highest on record. Ohio lamb crop 858,000 a little above average but two per cent under last year.

—:—

New farm legislation: Senate soon to debate farm bill. Flexible versus fixed price supports for basic commodities receiving considerable attention.

Southern Tomato Plants Attacked by Rot, Expert Says

Collar rot is attacking some tomato plants that were shipped in from the South. B. F. Janson, Ohio State University extension plant pathologist, says it's one symptom of early blight.

In fields where collar rot is present, Janson advised growers to watch closely for early blight. At the first signs of the blight, spray or dust every 7 to 10 days with three pounds per acre of zineb, ziram or manzate.

Collar rot causes a slightly sunken brown lesion around the stem of tomato plants near ground level. It looks like a rope or string burn around the plant stem.

Clean Potatoes In Transparent Bags Favored

Ohio Survey Reveals Washed Variety Sells More Than Unwashed

Ohio homemakers have told growers they want clean potatoes ready-packed in transparent bags. Ted W. Leed, Ohio State University marketing specialist, reached that conclusion after studying potato sales in Ohio stores.

In the Ohio survey, shoppers bought more washed than unwashed potatoes even when washed potatoes cost a cent more for a 15-pound bag. Four out of five shoppers bought the washed potatoes when the price was the same for washed and unwashed.

Washed potatoes packed in transparent polyethylene film bags outsold those in mesh-window bags two to one. An earlier survey showed three out of five shoppers would pay two cents more for potatoes packed in mesh-window bags than for those in solid paper bags. They like potatoes ready-packed, but they still want to see what they're buying, Leed said.

There was little difference in homemakers preference for type of bag when unwashed potatoes were offered. Dust or dirt on potatoes makes film bags unattractive, so potatoes packed in them should be washed before packing.

Leed believes handling problems will be solved and more potatoes will be washed and packed in transparent bags to please shoppers.

Farm Briefs

A total of 50 serious accidents to children occurred between May 1, 1953 and April 30, 1954, the National Child Labor Committee has announced.

Of the total, 16 resulted in a loss of life, the committee said. Tractors took the heaviest toll with 285 injuries reported during 1953.

Marion County farmers spent $483,503 on gasoline and other petroleum fuel and oil in 1949, according to the latest census of agriculture. The farmers also spent $1,212,664 on feed for livestock and poultry and $162,422 on tractor repairs.

The Marion County fair will come approximately halfway in fair time throughout Ohio.

JERSEY BOUNCE

MOSCOW, Ida — (UP) — The University of Idaho has a top collegiate rodeo rider named Howard Harris. He's from Cowtown—New Jersey.

Specialists Predict Fewer Potatoes on Early Fall Market

COLUMBUS, O. — Farmers will market fewer potatoes in the next two months than they did last summer unless shipments from late potato states are considerably heavier than in 1953.

Marketing specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture say late spring marketings of potatoes were down 25 per cent. They also report prospects are for eight per cent smaller harvest this year in the summer commercial potato states.

Farmers received higher prices for potatoes in both May and June than in those months last year.
